BRUNO AGAIN PREPARED FOR DEATH

Lamson Freed; Wife-Murder Charge Is Dropped

BREAKS INTO TEARS WHEN NEWS COMES

Court Erases Accusation
After Four Trial Efforts Fail

SAN JOSE, Cal., April 3.—(UP)—David Lamson, former Stanford university campus leader, became a free man today after three years of efforts to convict him for wife-murder, when the charge that he killed Allene Thorp Lamson on May 30, 1933, was dropped by the district attorney at San Jose, Calif., where his fourth trial ended with a dead-locked jury March 24.

District Attorney Fred Thomas requested the charges be dropped following an unsuccessful effort to convict Lamson in the fourth trial which ended March 24.

Lamson almost broke down as he realized his long fight was over.

Breaks Into Sobs

As the court approved dropping the charges, he turned scarlet. Then his face became ashen and he broke into sobs.

He was close to collapse as his sister, Dr. Margaret Lamson, his staunchest ally in the tragedy of his life, threw her arms around him.

Friends rushed from their seats in the courtroom to surround him as he sat slumped in his chair. He was crying profusely by this time.

Dr. Lamson and deputy sheriffs assisted him from the chair and led him, almost to the point of carrying him, back to his cell to make his preparations to return to the world outside prison walls. The district attorney's decision

DEMS SHAPING PARTY TICKETS

Democratic state and congressional tickets were said to be taking shape today, with reports from authoritative party sources that Ray Atkinson, Orange County Superintendent of Schools, would be endorsed as candidate for congress, and Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis as candidate for the state senate.

Leading Democratic organization men were said to be regarding that combination favorably, viewing it as providing the party with a solution of its problem for presenting one strong candidate for each of the two important legislative seats, rather than splitting support between two or more candidates for any office.

Democratic leaders in Riverside and San Bernardino counties are reported to have promised their support to any candidate which Orange county Democrats may present for the congressional nomination in the nineteenth district, to contest for the seat of Republican Congressman Sam L. Collins.

Collins won both the Republican and Democratic nominations at the primary two years ago.

Inside party sources today indicated that the Atkinson for congress and Davis for state senate was being strongly favored. Davis would seek the vacant senate seat left by Senator N. T. Edwards, Republican, of Orange, who will not be a candidate for reelection.

Thomas L. McFadden, of Anaheim, is the only Republican candidate so far announced for the state seat.

ANGERED HOGS KILL BOY, HURT BROTHER

REDDING, Cal., April 3.—(UP)—Gored and butted in a pen of maddened hogs where his 4-year-old brother met death, James Duncan, 2, is in serious condition, but will live, physicians said today.

His face and scalp severely lacerated from the animals' attack, James was snatched from death by his panic-stricken mother who heard her children screaming and ran to the pen where 15 hogs already had inflicted fatal injuries upon four-year-old David.

One of David's ears nearly was severed and his face was badly cut. He died in a Redding hospital. The attack occurred on the family ranch five miles southeast of Redding.

CREW PANICKY IN FISH BOAT TYPHOID SCARE

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 3.—(UP)—A typhoid epidemic aboard the 115-foot tank clipper Rajo returning from tropical fishing banks, was feared today after official confirmation that Clarence Tavares, crew member removed from the vessel several days ago was suffering from the fever.

Tavares was brought northward by the liner Canada, which docked Tuesday. He was taken to a hospital where physicians reported he was suffering from typhoid fever. The Rajo is due here early next week.

Capt. Victor Gouhart is master of the ship. The vessel carries a crew of 14.

Radio reports received earlier at San Francisco from the captain of the Canada said members of the Rajo's crew were in panic and threatening to jump overboard at fear they also had been exposed to the fever.

Capt. Gouhart had appealed for aid to the Canada, which came alongside off Point Arena, near the Canal Zone, and took Tavares aboard.

The Rajo is fishing for the Van Camp Sea Food company of San Diego and San Pedro.

SLAYER OF WIFE HANGED IN PRISON

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., April 3.—(UP)—Clarence De Moss, 48-year-old Turlock mechanic, paid with his life today for the murder of his estranged wife in 1934.

De Moss dropped through the trap of the San Quentin prison gallows at 10:04 a. m. and in eleven and one-half minutes was pronounced dead by the prison physician.

As the physician made his announcement, Warden James B. Holohan turned away with a sigh of relief. It was the last execution he will be called upon to witness in his capacity as administrative head of the state's largest prison. He retires April 15.

SEARCH DEBRIS FOR BODIES OF TORNADO DEAD

Torrential Rains, Low Temperatures Add To Discomfort In South

By United Press

A FLOOD menace and a cold wave today were added to the weather discomforts of the south which counted 40 dead from tornadoes and electric storms in five states.

Tennessee was the sixth southern state brought into the weather picture as the Tennessee river rose rapidly. A sudden drop in temperature occurred after the storms.

Georgia counted 25 storm dead—18 at Cordele and seven in other sections of the state. Other deaths in the south were: 12 at Greensboro, N. C., from a tornado; one Alabama tornado victim; one killed by high winds in South Carolina; and one struck by lightning near Apalachicola, Fla., as northwest Florida was visited by a heavy wind.

Rains Ride Tornadoes

With the tornadoes came torrential rains over most of the south, and the greatest flood threat was from the Tennessee river. For a second time in a week, the river was rising rapidly at Chattanooga and will reach 34 feet three-four feet above flood stage by tonight.

National guardmen and weeping relatives of missing persons dug into rain-sodden debris of a wrecked residential and industrial area for bodies expected to increase the toll.

Twelve crushed bodies already had been extracted from a strip four blocks wide across the entire southern edge of Greensboro, where the last of eight tornadoes in the Carolinas and Georgia struck last night.

Sheriff Joe U. Phipps estimated that more than 400 persons were injured in Greensboro, N. C., 25 critically, and that property damage passed $1,500,000. Damage to Cordele passed $1,000,000.

The culminating blow of a day of disasters in the south at the hands of the elements—including the rising flood of the Tennessee river—struck Greensboro at the height of a heavy rain and wind storm just after darkness fell.

The tornado struck the southwestern corner of the city first, smashed an entire block of small homes flat, skipped into the air for half a block, and roared then with almost unbelievable havoc across the entire width of the city.

None of the thousands of persons in its path had even an inkling of its coming until their houses crashed about them or rose in the air to an accompanying roar of wind and the instantaneous blotting out of light.

Automobiles were tossed from streets into yards. Jagged bits of glass from the shattered windows of a grocery store were imbedded so deeply and thickly in a telephone pole before the store that the pole seemed to be frosted.

Borah Scoffs At Pasting He Took In N. Y.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(UP)—Backers of Sen. William E. Borah contended today that defeat of all Borah-pledged national convention candidates in the New York state primary was of small consequence in the senator's campaign for Republican presidential nomination.

"It was no surprise to me," Borah said today. "I didn't know anything about the situation there and I didn't expect to win."

The New York primary gave the state's Democratic national convention delegation to President Roosevelt although Alfred E. Smith easily won a convention seat. Smith has promised to "take a walk" if the convention endorses the Roosevelt administration, which it will do with considerable emphasis.

Borah said he did not consider the New York poll a real test of his strength but would so construe results of the Wisconsin primary, April 7, and that in Illinois one week later. All 17 Borah-pledged delegates in New York were defeated yesterday. Uninstructed district delegates were uniformly successful.

Political observers believe New York's early support will go to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas with Frank Knox of Chicago and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg likelylegatees if the Kansan fails to clear early ballot hurdles. Strong financial backing for Landon already is evident in New York City.

Yesterday's presidential primary was the first of six schedules for this month. Borah will leave tomorrow night to campaign in Wisconsin—one Milwaukee speech—and to appear in several Illinois communities.

April primaries, in addition to those named, will take place in Nebraska April 14 and in Pennsylvania but said today he had no idea what his chances were in the latter state.

Borah's campaign centers around his effort to seize party control from the regular or so-called old guard leaders. A reverse in New York state need not be fatal to his movement but the movement is now "dead." He said there was no official connection between OARP and the third party mass meeting.

John Bloodsworth, Detroit public accountant, testified that he and four other accountants employed by the committee had examined OARP books for "fifteen or sixteen days" and found them "incomplete" and "muddled" to such an extent that it would require from $30,000 to $40,000 to get "completes" accounting.

The investigation, under the resolution, is limited to total expenditures of $50,000. Committee members were uncertain whether they should ask for more money or abandon the idea of the audit.

Clements claimed the $1700 was usurped over by Ed Gordon, OARP state area manager at Los Angeles, to Edward J. Margott, state area manager at San Francisco.

Other points brought out include:

That the Townsend Weekly started on a "shoestring" investment of $250 by Townsend and Clements, was receiving revenues of from $500 to $600 weekly from circulation alone and that much advertising comes from patent products aimed to reach the aged.

That OARP is incorporated under a California law by Townsend, with all of his stock held by him.

They were married late yesterday by Justice of the Peace Julius Raven.

Witnesses were Hattie Carnegie Naftuf, of New York and Dorothy Joyce, of Beverly Hills.

Lowe's first wife was Esther Miller. They were divorced and he married Lillian Tashman, actress, who died two years ago. The bride was divorced from Albert Kaufman in 1929.

Edmund Lowe On Third Honeymoon

ARMONK, N. Y., April 3.—(UP)—Edmund Lowe, film star, was on his honeymoon today with his third wife, the former Mrs. Rita Augusta K. Kaufman, 37, a writer, of Beverly Hills, Cal.

They were married late yesterday by Justice of the Peace Julius Raven.

Witnesses were Hattie Carnegie Naftuf, of New York and Dorothy Joyce, of Beverly Hills.

Gloria Spreckels Arrives In Reno

RENO, Nev., April 3.—(UP)—Mrs. Debevoise Spreckels, 18-year-old bride of Adolph B. Spreckels Jr., wealthy sugar heir, has established residence in Reno, presumably for divorce, it was confirmed today.

Mrs. Spreckels engaged a suite at a local hotel after an airplane trip with her mother from New York, where last week she was involved in a court separation suit with Spreckels. She was reportedly seeking $50,000 yearly alimony.

Arrest Reveals Fingerprints Not Infallible

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 3.—(UP)—Fingerprinting, the modern policeman's heretofore infallible weapon in scientific crime detection, appeared today to have been placed in question by the case of William Schmidt of Walla Walla.

Schmidt's fingerprints so resembled those of an escaped convict that he was transported across a state line to prison before the mistake was discovered.

The result was an instant deluge of requests from officers of several states. They wanted every bit of available evidence in the case to permit a thorough check against the possibility of identical fingerprints.

Such a phenomenon would revolutionize modern criminology, carry widespread connotation of false arrest and libel, and provide criminal defenders with a powerful combative weapon in the future, authorities believed.

Tom Mix, Veteran Actor Ill In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—(UP)—Tom Mix, veteran actor and circus performer, who came to San Francisco, with his circus, was ill of pneumonia today and unable to take part in the show.

When Mix failed to appear last night, circus crowds were informed he had been bitten by an animal.

Today, circus officials said that while a bear had nipped one of Mix's fingers he was really suffering from pneumonia.

Amy Mollinson In New Record Quest

GRAVENSEND, England, April 3.—(UP)—Amy Johnson Mollinson, England's premier woman flier, set out alone in a stream-lined monoplane at 5:30 a. m. today on a secretly-planned attempt to set a new record to Cape Town and back.

She hoped to reach Cape Town in less than three days, or in any event, to beat the three days, 17 hours, 38 minutes with which Flight Lieutenant Tommy Rose in February lowered Mrs. Mollinson's record of November, 1932.

Execution Ordered Tonight Unless Gov. Hoffman Grants Reprieve

BULLETIN

TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—(UP)—Attorney General David T. Wilentz this afternoon informed the warden of the state prison that Bruno Richard Hauptmann must be executed tonight unless the governor grants a reprieve. The attorney general added that he had already informed the governor that he was without authority to grant a reprieve.

BULLETIN

TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—(UP)—There appears to be no hope now for Bruno Richard Hauptmann. His death in the electric chair at 8 p. m. for the Lindbergh baby murder seems certain at the close of a day crowded with fantastic developments.

STATE PRISON, TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann was in tears as he prepared himself to die in the electric chair at 8 p. m.

He spent much of the time this afternoon reading the Bible.

But through the hours that will be his last unless some new intervention saves him, the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby could not maintain his iron nerve. He seemed upset and he cried frequently.

Principal Keeper Mark O. Kimballing at 2:45 p. m. said:

"As far as I know, now he will go at 8 o'clock tonight."

Proceed With Preparations

Methodically, prison officials proceeded once more with the minute preparations to put the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby to death, despite possibilities that a last-minute development might again postpone the execution.

Kimballing said this afternoon that as the case stood then, he intended to proceed with the execution. He had the word from Atty. Gen. David T. Wilentz to go ahead, but the attitude of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman remained uncertain.

The two Ethiopian columns were repelled when they tried to attack the Italian positions in the Lake Aschangi area, it was announced today. Their losses were said to be heavy. Italian losses were reported to be four Ethiopians killed and 30 Ethiopians and Eritreans wounded.

Authorities said the rains will have no effect on military operations.

All roads in the occupied territory are to be gutted before the big rains start in mid-June, to continue until mid-September.

There is expected to be a dry interval of two weeks between the little and big rains.

Details of the recent fight north of Aschangi indicated it was the most sanguinary of the war, which started six months ago

WOMAN'S STORY GLENDALE MAN PAYS TRAFFIC COUNT FINE

NORWALK, Conn., April 2.—(UPI)—Mrs. Daniel Hermann, operator of a rooming house where Isidor Fisch and a companion lived after the Lindbergh kidnapping, was quoted by the South Norwalk Sentinel today as having told investigators for Gov. Harold G. Hoffman that a man who "looked very much like Dr. Condon" visited Fisch at the rooming house twice in 1932.

"He looked like Dr. Condon," Mrs. Hermann said, according to the newspaper. "He was only here for a short time but the more we recall his face the more we believe we are right."

Dr. John F. (Jafsic) Condon was the ransom intermediary in the Lindbergh case.

The stranger, she said, described himself as "Dr. Goodman" and on one of his visits wrote her a prescription for a cold, which she had filled at a drugstore.

The handwriting on the prescription, she said, was compared with exhibits of the Hauptmann trail.

She said Dr. Goodman appeared to have been a "polished gentleman," who resembled the Bronx school teacher, and that his first visit was on July 24, 1932.

She added he "acted mysteriously," and that she "knew Dr. Goodman was not his right name."

Fisch, she told the Sentinel, had offered to sell her "gold backs" for "sixty cents on the dollar" relating he had a friend who had the currency and wished to get rid of it. She did not see the money.

ROTARY CLUB TAKES OVER SCOUT TROOP

Santa Ana Rotary club now is sponsor of two Boy Scout troops, having taken over the responsibility for the mounted troops formerly sponsored by the Santa Ana Breakfast club, it was learned today.

Troop 37, the former Breakfast club troop, will be led by Scoutmaster Milan M. Miller, assisted by Assistant Scoutmaster M. C. Hall. The troop has 22 boys at present, about 12 of whom are in the mounted patrol which rides in formation and takes cross-country jaunts each Saturday near Irvine park. Regular meetings are held each Monday night in Jack Fisher park.

F. P. Nickey is scoutmaster of troop 24, the other troop sponsored by Rotary.

LAMSON FREED AFTER 4 TRIAL EFFORTS FAIL

Emil Paul Hudec, Glendale, was fined $25 for reckless driving, records on file in city court today reveal. E. M. White, Los Angeles, paid $5, and Joseph Haberman, Los Angeles, $5, for speeding.

Robert Coffin, Corona, was fined $100 and given a 90-day suspended jail sentence, after pleading guilty to indecent exposure. He was accused of annoying two Willow Junior high school girls who were walking home from school. Jewel Morresey paid $2 for violating a boulevard-stop.

YMCA BOYS TO BE KEPT BUSY VACATION WEEK

Vacation week promises to be a busy outdoor week for Boys' Secretary Herbert R. Thomas, of the Y. M. C. A.

His schedule of special activities for the boys starts this evening with a "weenie bake" for the Lathrop Junior Hi-Y boys at Orange County park. They leave the Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock this evening and will return by 10 o'clock in case of rain the party will be held at the Y. M. C. A.

Mondays morning at 7 o'clock a group of older boy members will leave the Y. building for an all day hike on Saddle Back, returning about 6 p. m.

Thursday morning at 10, the members of the "Vigilantes" club of boys will go to Irvine park for an overnight hike, in the course of which they hope to explore a great deal of territory in the vicinity of the park. They will get home Friday afternoon.

The Lathrop Hi-Y will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, regardless of the vacation.

The monthly meeting of the Raggers' club is postponed from Monday evening to the following Monday, April 13.

The Community Pioneer club planning committee will meet Monday evening at 7:30, to formulate plans for the first Community Pioneer club which will meet Friday, May 1. Paul Teter is chairman of this committee.

The Boys' Work committee, of which H. G. Nelson is chairman, will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4.

And so, says Thomas, it looks like a busy vacation week in the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A.

HAUPTMANN READS BIBLE AND WEEPS AS DEATH HOUR NEARS

sit on his bare cot in apparent exhaustion.

Every time the death house door opened, he jumped to the front of the cell, eager to see if it was some one coming to tell him something.

The only persons expected to visit Hauptmann during the day were his spiritual advisers, Rev. John Matthiesen and Dr. D. G. Werner, and his attorney, C. Lloyd Fisher.

Barring another stay Mrs. Hauptmann was not to be permitted to see him today.

Prison Band Plays

While Hauptmann was standing alone this afternoon—in the shadow of death—the prison band in the main building practiced stirring march tunes. Hauptmann could not hear the music.

There was no radio working in the death house today. It was disconnected to prevent Bruno from hearing any news flashes relating to his case.

Kimberling announced that as far as he was concerned the Lindbergh baby killer would be put to death tonight.

His Luck Turns

Hauptmann's reserve of good luck began running low at midnight when the Mercer county grand jury recessed without taking any action in the case of Paul H. Wendel whose repudiated confession caused Kimberling to postpone Hauptmann's execution last Tuesday night.

Alline Freeman, foreman of the jury, told Kimberling this morning that the jury had no reason for asking further delay.

Kimberling then went to Erwin Marshall, prosecutor of Mercer county. After talking with Marshall for an hour the head keeper announced he would go ahead with plans for the execution tonight, but would check also with Attorney General David T. Wilentz.

Although Wilentz is the state's highest legal authority his word alone may not be enough to send Hauptmann to the chair. Wilentz and Gov. Harold G. Hoffman are bitter political enemies. Hoffman wants to save Hauptmann and Wilentz wants him killed. The governor may again inject himself into the case at the last minute. Observers believe that in event of a disagreement Kimberling would follow Hoffman's instructions as against Wilentz.

"I am going ahead with preparation for the execution. I could not delay it beyond tomorrow night because I have no authority to do so," Kimberling said.

He said that since the grand jury's request of Tuesday night he had received no further request for a delay.

Wilentz "Confused"

Reporters talked to Wilentz before Kimberling had seen him. Wilentz told them he did not care to discuss what clarification he would give to the head keeper. He said the swift, uncertain maneuvers involved in the "discontinuance" of the Wendel case inquiry by the grand jury shortly before midnight had left him "as confused as anyone else."

C. Lloyd Fisher, counsel for Hauptmann, today sent a telegram demanding the submission of the Wendel case to the Hunterdon County grand jury. It was another of the last desperate moves to save the condemned man.

Fisher demanded removal of Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck Jr., and the appointment of a special prosecutor.

Hauck announced the text of the telegram sent by Fisher as follows:

"The confession of Wendel indicates that he is guilty of the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby."

"The crime admittedly occurred in Hunterdon county.

"No grand jury other than the Hunterdon county jury would or could have authority either to investigate this kidnapping or return an indictment against any person perpetrating it."

"I demand that you immediately tell the grand jury to consider the Wendel case. Wendel by his own statement involves himself in the crime pending the investigation by the Hunterdon county grand jury. I urge you to join me in requesting a stay of Hauptmann's execution until such time as the Hunterdon county grand jury can reach a determination."

While these developments swirled about the heads of prominent figures in the case outside, Hauptmann awoke in death cell number nine to learn that his chief source of hope—the Mercer county grand jury—had recessed overnight without taking any action which would delay his death.

Thirty paces from where Hauptmann sat electricians again were testing the chain in which he is to be put to death at 8 p. m. Extra guards were at the door of his cell. He was deprived of all utensils which might be used in an attempt at suicide.

ARGUMENTS IN CHAPMAN CASE RUNS WILD IN ARE POSTPONED PRIVATE HOME

After a day of argument before Superior Judge G. K. Scovell yesterday, hearing of a defense demurral, and a motion to strike portions of the complaint brought by the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles against Charles C. Chapman, principal stockholder of the Santa Ysabel Land company, was continued to April 9.

The bank sued Chapman for $1,181,904.47, as stockholder's liability from being drunk and on arson but the arson charge will not be filed against him owing to his condition at the time, officers said. He was taken to county hospital for treatment and will be prosecuted for "inebriation."

At an earlier hearing of the case last November, Defense Counsel F. C. Drumm successfully objected to the taking of testimony in the case, on the ground that the Santa Ysabel Land company was liable only for the deficiency, after sale of the hotel property, and that, such deficiency not being determined, the liability of the Santa Ysabel stockholders could not be determined.

When they broke in, they found the veterinarian had assertedly broken several pieces of furniture and had piled a mattress and carpet in the corner of an upstairs bedroom and set fire to it. He jumped out of a window and ran through an orchard, where the officers overtook him, they said.

Apparently trying to escape from something, Dr. Wilkins, a veterinarian, knocked on the door at the Berger home and when Mrs. Berger opened it, he dashed in. Mrs. Berger went to the home of her neighbor, Mrs. McClary, to call officers.

Officers Ezra Stanley and Walter Dungan found all the doors locked at the Berger place. When they broke in, they found the veterinarian had assertedly broken several pieces of furniture and had piled a mattress and carpet in the corner of an upstairs bedroom and set fire to it. He jumped out of a window and ran through an orchard, where the officers overtook him, they said.

DEATH NOTICES*A WORD OF COMFORT

It will not lessen your grief nor make life easy to relinquish your ideals of truth, honor and duty. When they are gone, life is devoid of dignity and of meaning.

There is but one road for you to take, and it is a hard one. Cry out for strength to the God you believe in, exist with strength to be true to the best that you know, to keep honest and clean, and to do your allotted tasks the best you can. Then walk steadily onward, with eyes to the front. Strength will come.

OSCEOLA CAMP
DATES ARE SET
BY YMCA HEADS

Y. M. C. A. summer camp dates for Osceola have been set by the Y. M. C. A. County committee, it was reported today by Boys' Secretary D. H. Tibbals.

Many boys who have been waiting for the dates to be announced will now be able to go ahead with their summer plans. All they need to remember, says Tibbals, is that Santa Ana older boys will go to Osceola on June 20, immediately after the close of the public schools, and they will stay until July 2. This camp period is in combination with Orange older boys, and it is expected that there will be a full capacity attendance. J. B. Wilbur of the Orange Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the program, assisted by Herbert Thomas of the Santa Ana Y.

Other dates scheduled are:

Friendly Indiana (Younger Boys) from all Orange county, June 13 to 20.

Fullerton Older Boys, July 2 to 14.

Anaheim Girl Reserves, July 14 to 24.

North Orange County Girl Reserves, July 24 to Aug. 7.

Anaheim Girl Scouts, Aug. 7 to 17.

Southern California Hi-Y Camp, Aug. 24 to 31.

The week of August 17 to 24 is still unassigned but will no doubt be filled before the season starts.

Officers chosen for the summer include Ted Corcoran, of Fullerton, chairman; Walter Taylor, of Anaheim, vice-chairman; A. J. Raftt, of Fullerton, camp secretary; Coleman Hickey, of Anaheim, recording secretary; K. Goodale, of Fullerton, treasurer.

Plans for the season are being made on the expectation of a large attendance at the camp this year, said Tibbals.

"Ma" Jenine Kenline, who has served as camp chef from almost the first year of Osceola, is expected to be on hand again, and the general program and equipment will show improvements that have been made to add to the comfort and safety of the campers.

Reservations may be made at any time, and in view of the expected attendance it will be a good plan for those who really want to go to get their names in soon. A telephone call to the Y. M. C. A. office will bring detailed information.

FIESTA QUEEN GETS HEIRLOOM BACK

HEIRLOOM, MISSING FOR 40
YEARS, FOUND IN ASH HEAP
HERE; RESTORED TO OWNER

Mysteriously missing for the past 40 years, a bronze medal awarded the queen of the Los Angeles Fiesta de las Flores 40 years ago, was restored to its owner, Mrs. Mildred Howell Lewis, of Los Angeles, yesterday after the valued medal had been retrieved from ashes of an old Santa Ana city junk pile.

Mrs. Lewis was queen of Los Angeles' third fiesta in 1896. However, the medal came to be lost remains a mystery, but the slender chain of chance that brought it back is intriguing.

According to the story, several years ago two blacksmiths worked at their trade in Santa Ana when business became bad during the depression, they hit upon the idea of sifting ashes of the old Santa Ana dump for what they might find.

They sifted out old jewelry.

Thompson came upon many baubles and one which interested him particularly. It was the bronze medal awarded the Fiesta Queen of Los Angeles in 1896.

The medal was returned to Mrs.

Lewis, who said it was lost on the day of the fiesta celebration in 1896. She said she received so many things it was difficult to keep track of them. Many of the gifts she received at that time she still cherishes, and was profoundly happy to get back the treasured bronze medal which was found so curiously in Orange county.

STATE HIGHWAY SPANISH WAR
ENGINEER SAYS VETS ON VISIT
REPORT FALSE TO GATE CITY

H. B. Lindley, state highway engineer in charge of the South Main street widening project, today took exception to the statement made by Thelma Patton, 1102 North Broadway, late Wednesday night after her car crashed into a barricade erected at Fairview and Main in connection with the project.

Mrs. Patton, who escaped personal injury, told police there was no lighted lantern at the place and city officers who investigated declared the lighting was insufficient as lanterns were dirty.

"We have enough warning signals at that location that a person almost blind should be able to see them," Lindley said. "There are a 4x8 foot reflector sign, visible for 200 yards by reflection from car headlights, a 'dangerous but passable' warning sign, visible for 70 yards, three red lanterns lighted at night and a bomb oil flare."

A group of members of Calum-pit camp, United Spanish War Veterans, visited Rollins-Noble Camp No. 13, at San Bernardino, last night, for the double purpose of making arrangements with Past Commander Gilbert Gregory, of that camp, who is general chairman of the department encampment committee, for the drum corps contest to be held during the convention which meets there next month, and for the visitation program being followed by the campaign committee promoting the candidacy of Department Patriotic Instructor Frank P. Rowe for the office of department instructor, the starting point for department commander.

Those composing the group, besides Rowe were: Past Department Commander Charles E. Dixon, chairman of the campaign committee; Commander James A. Randal, also drum major of the Cal-um-pit Drum corps by inviting Manager Frank P. Rowe to supply two drummers to beat muffled drums in the memorial service to be held the evening of May 17, the opening ceremony of the encampment.

COUNTY WATER DISTRICT ASKED TO LEAD FIGHT

Holding to the opinion that the Orange County Water District is the proper agency to lead this county's battles over water rights, directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau yesterday instructed Secretary R. D. Flaherty to send that message to directors of the district.

The directors were unanimous in their vote to advise the water district that the Farm Bureau is looking to the district to either initiate or intervene in any litigation or water rights problems, either within or without the county, which affect water rights of the Santa Ana river.

ORANGE COUNTY JAIL SENTENCE WPA SPONSORS OF THIRTY DAYS PAY HIGH RATE IS SUSPENDED

Political subdivisions in Orange county which sponsor Works Progress Administration projects contribute an average of more than 35 per cent to the cost of WPA projects while San Francisco and Los Angeles counties had to put up but 10 per cent of the cost of WPA projects, it was learned today.

County WPA Manager Dan Mulherron said today that in Orange county no project has ever been taken with the sponsor's contribution less than 20 per cent, aside from the county-wide recreational project which involves little cost of materials, etc. The WPA here has been following set rules in this procedure, Mulherron said, and could offer no explanation as to why the two larger counties are permitted to pay less.

Mulherron said it is his belief that the ratio of sponsor's contributions to WPA projects in Orange county is the highest in the state. Sponsor's costs here have been run up some by addition of improvements classified as extra, he said.

A breakdown of WPA expenditures in San Francisco revealed that San Francisco obtained allocations amounting to $23,285,126 and pledged only $2,359,911 of its own funds toward the work. Its percentage was 10.1 per cent, the lowest of any in the state. Los Angeles secured WPA allocations totaling $73,239,378 and put up pledges of $7,638,943. Its contribution was 10.4 per cent of the total.

Ralph Wadsworth, assistant state administrator, explained the supervisors of these counties claimed their budgets already were made up when WPA was launched and no funds other than those they pledged were available for the work-giving projects.

The WPA allotment for all of California was $162,805,336 and local governments pledged $22,713,938 of the total, making their contributions 14 per cent and the federal government's 86 per cent.

Wadsworth said that while the 163 millions had been allocated, not all of it will be spent. To date $64,000,000 has been expended on works projects under WPA in California. The percentages, however, will hold good for comparative purposes, no matter how much is done, he said.

Just arrived for Easter! Hundreds of smart new styles and materials. Jacket Suits, Silk Prints, Silk Crepes, Ensembles, etc. Amazing values at such low prices—Sizes 12 to 52—Plenty of large sizes.

SUPPORTERS OF LANDON LISTEN TO ADDRESSES

More than 100 Republicans attended a dinner and rally held last night in the Green Cat cafe. The dinner was sponsored by the Landon-For-President Club of Orange County.

T. B. Talbert, mayor of Huntington Beach and chairman of the club here presided as toastmaster and introduced the speakers.

Dr. Joseph Cook Shaw, of Topeka, Kan., and a close friend of Gov. Alf M. Landon, who is winning at San Pedro, was one of the principal speakers. He told his listeners, "We are facing now more than just a political election. It is our task to save America with leadership."

"Governor Landon is a straightforward man of just the right age to exercise real power. He has steadfast ability and judgment to render a great and necessary service to the people."

Other speakers from Los Angeles were Ross Marshall, chairman of the Landon-For-President Clubs of Southern California, and Mrs. Kathleen Michael, chairman of the Women's division of the same organization.

Orange county speakers called upon were: State Senator Nelson T. Edwards, Orange; Howard Irwin Fullerton, chairman of the Orange County Republican Central Committee; Maxwell Wright, Santa Ana, manager of the Landon-For-President Club of Orange county and City Attorney L. W. Blodget.

Music during the dinner was provided by the Elks' double quartet, with Miss Ruth Armstrong accompanying them at the piano.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY AID SOCIETY

Brooks Hughes, 70-year-old Virginian-born giant, arrested on an assault and battery complaint signed by Joe Stumps, 610 West Second street, was given a 30-day suspended county jail term yesterday "on condition you do not interfere with or molest the complaining witness." The sentence was given by City Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Stumps complained Hughes, who lives at 1215 1/2 North Ross street, struck him with a cane in an argument over money. Hughes declared Stumps was telling their mutual friends that Hughes had taken $3 which belonged to Stumps, during a visit. "I didn't take the money," Hughes said, according to police reports. "Stumps may have lost it as he was drinking when I visited him."

Charles Dever was elected president of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society at the monthly meeting of that organization yesterday. Mrs. Grace Hiatt will serve as vice president. Mrs. W. J. Dews as treasurer and Mrs. W. H. Johnson as council member.

Miss Lois Gaylord was re-elected recording secretary of the group and Mrs. E. N. Turner was re-elected devotional secretary. Retiring members of the executive board are Mrs. C. O. Powell, Mrs. Jerome Westfall, Mrs. W. H. Lowry and Mrs. W. O. Higgins.

Dr. R. B. McAulay, pastor of the church, installed the new officers, Mrs. C. O. Powell presiding at the business session.

POWER SOURCE AT POLE SEEN BY EXPLORER

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., April 3.—(UP)—If the day ever comes when power is sent around the globe by radio transmission instead of high tension lines, the South Pole may become one of the world's great power-generating stations.

This "fantasy" is the dream of Prof. Frank Debenham, who was a member of the ill-fated Antarctic expedition of Capt. Robert Scott and who now heads the Scott Polar Research Institute here.

Each year 100 or more adventurous young men pass through the institute, learning the job that lies ahead of them as polar explorers.

Discussing possible development of the great uninhabited continent at the "bottom of the world"—nearly 5,000,000 square miles of it—Debenham said there is an immeasurable source of power in the constant gales that rage across the icy wastes.

Vast over Compared

"For instance," he said, "over the ridge of Adelie Land a river of air 50 miles wide flows constantly at gale force and forms a cataract greater than any water force in the world."

"All around the continent terrific winds blow from the high plateau and some day these may be harnessed by wind-driven generators. But we must wait until we have radio transmission of power before this inexhaustible source of energy can be connected with the rest of the world."

This is because no human or animal life exists in the Antarctic, not only because of the climate colder than the North Pole, but the utter absence of any plant life.

"Yet it is the healthiest place in the world," Debenham, a tall rugged man with ruddy cheeks, explained. "No germs can survive there and the health-giving ultraviolet rays of the sun beat down upon the territory for six and in some places eight months of the year."

Finds Health Bolstered

"It is the perfect sanatorium. Even when we were shut up for four in a hut at the camp base of the Scott expedition we were perfectly comfortable and healthy. It is noticeable in polar explorers. I believe, that always later in life they tend to be burly—not fat but muscular and heavy-boned."

He said, in response to a question, that he believed it would be impossible ever to build a civilization on the surface at the Antarctic.

"They would have to be subterranean cities where everything was man-made," he said.

The Scott Polar Research Institute is a memorial to the expedition of Captain Scott, who went to the South Pole with a hardy band of men only to find the flag of Amundsen there—planted a month before.

UNIQUE CORPORATION FORMED 27 YEARS AGO BY BACHELORS UNCOVERED IN COURT HOUSE

By GEORGE HART

A group of timid young Orange county bachelors who fondly imagined that the girls might want them, and were secretly afraid they wouldn't, formed 27 years ago one of the most unique corporations in Orange county, and at the same time established some sort of record for self-delusion.

The self-delusion exhibited by Homer Ames, then a frisky young attorney, now a sedate superior court judge, and his associates in the Bohemian Club of Santa Ana, took two forms:

1—That the girls had any designs on them.

2—That the girls would stop for any fool corporation, when we got ready to annex the membership.

When the 10 shy young things in trousers got together on September 7, 1909, and duly incorporated the Bohemian Club, under the preamble: "In order to form a more perfect union, to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, to provide for our common defense, to promote our own general welfare, and to make secure the blessings of individual liberty," they clearly tipped their hand. What they really meant was: "Oh, look, girls, come and chase us."

The general opinion around the courthouse at that time was that Homer Ames, Joe Burke, Bill Menon, "Rudy" Rutan and the rest of that bunch were merely trying to do a little bragging. Official circles had little fear that they needed any defense against the other sex. Official circles read the preamble, which was sprinkled with such phrases as "perfect union," and "domestic tranquility," and understood what was ailing the lads.

If any confirmation was needed, it was supplied by Homer Ames, who, less than a year later, took the first chance to leap into matrimony, where he has snugly remained ever since. His associates weakly surrendered to Dan Cupid in rapid order, as opportunity presented.

Thus, the expressed purpose of the club, as shown in its articles of incorporation, to "equip and maintain retreats for the accommodation of unmarried men exclusively," stood as one of the epic jokes of the generation.

Some more jokes about the project was that it was incorporated for 50 years and $25,000. But, after posting the filing fee on one buck with County Clerk Bry Williams, the group hedged and did not complete the filing at Sacramento, which would have cost more money. That, said official circles, showed they were merely four-flushing about the whole matter, and probably wanted to save their money to pay the preacher.

However, the articles of incorporation for the Bohemian Club, strange and futile gesture against womankind, form an actual part of the records of Orange county, and may be found in the musty archives of the county clerk's office, under file 547.

The document was executed before H. C. Head, as notary public, and bears the signatures of the ten incorporators: H. G. Ames, attorney, now judge of Department One, Superior court; J. C. Burke, then a deputy clerk, later an attorney, legislator and United States District Attorney; Tarver Montgomery, attorney; H. W. McCullough; W. F. Menon, now district attorney; C. T. Johnson, printer; Sid Smithwick, peace officer; W. F. Diers, implement dealer; J. Howard Turner, banker.

Anna May entertained with a cello at long tables preceding the business session and musical program. Messrs. and Mesdames Frank H. Greenwood, R. L. Farnsworth, F. Bowen, C. Cluster and S. H. Bardwell were in charge of arrangements.

U.S. GUIDEBOOK OUT THIS FALL AS WPA PROJECT

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(UP)—

The first volume of the American Guide, a nationwide WPA white collar project employing some $200 writers and other workers taken from relief rolls, will appear this fall. Henry G. Alsberg, director of the WPA federal writers project, announced. Publication of other volumes will follow in like manner.

"There has never been the slightest doubt of what will be done with the material assembled for the Guide," Alsberg said. "The original allocation made for this work provided adequate funds for the necessary expenses of publication."

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TOLD THAT NEUTRALITY IS STILL UNFINISHED PROBLEM

By VIRGINIA FRITCHER

"We need to realize that there is a peace picture as well as a war picture to be painted," said Mrs. Malbone W. Graham yesterday afternoon in an address on "America's Problem of Neutrality in 1936" at an open meeting of Santa Ana League of Women Voters in the Y.M.C.A. Recently returned from Washington, D. C., where she represented California on the Cause and Cure of War conference, Mrs. Graham reiterated the conference's recognition that "The problem of war and peace is highly complex, but a problem which is not insoluble."

Named as the three points of the neutrality policy which was to expire February 29, last, but which was put into effect for another 18 months, were: provisions for embargo on arms and munitions; setting up of a munitions control board; the government's withdrawal of protection to individuals and companies, who thus travel at their own risk. Embargo on loans and credit, in modified form, was added as a fourth feature of the policy when it was extended to Congress early this year.

Mrs. Graham referred to neutrality as a definitely unfinished problem to be given wide consideration. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was present at the first as well as the latest meeting of the cause and cure of war council, was quoted in her statement. "For success in your work to achieve international understanding, you must have the idea rooted in your community."

The speaker pointed out that neutrality never has been able to keep the United States out of a major conflict. "If neutrality had been the way to peace, there would have been no World War," she stated, adding, "Since 1918, neutrality has scarcely been in the American vocabulary."

Not Definite

The belief that neutrality might keep United States out of war has its basis in the realization that neutrality is not a set and definite thing; that it is a status which any nation assumes at times when other countries are at war."

Urge Consideration

Urging serious and general consideration of the vital problem of neutrality, Mrs. Graham climaxed her talk with the statement, "We think too much of history as a thing of the past, and not enough of the fact that history is capable of change through constructive criticism and building in an inter-relative world."

The speaker was introduced by the League president, Mrs. Ora K. Heine. Other guests were Dr. Margaret Baker of the school, Dr. George A. Warner, and members of Orange county branch A. A. U. W., Business and Professional Women's club and the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Graham is International relations' chairman for the California League of Women Voters, and holds the same post with the American Association of University Women.

BONES REVEAL ANCIENT TRIBE LIVED IN SOUTH

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 3.—(UP)—Thirteen skeletons of prehistoric persons found recently in Franklin County, near here, have been placed in the Alabama Museum of Natural History at the University of Alabama here.

The skeletons were found walled up in a crevice in the side of a limestone cliff near old Burleson post office. Those 13 that could be identified were the skeletons of adults. An undetermined number of infants had been placed with them, jumbled together as if in single burial.

The exact age of the bones is unknown. Dr. Walter B. Jones, state geologist and director of the museum, says that they probably belonged to one of the prehistoric tribes of bluff-shelter people once prevalent in the Tennessee Valley.

However, two earthenware vessels found in the cave show only a slight similarity to the typical Tennessee Valley pottery. This fact gives rise to the belief that the skeletons may be those of a tribe earlier than the ones now known.

A thin layer of stones covered the skeletons when they were discovered by W. A. Barksdale, of Vina, Ala. The museum plans to search for other ancient remains in that area.

where there is also a small sister, was born March 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Riley McMurray, of Redwood street. He has been named Jim Ellis.

YACHTING GOSSIP

By S. P. INNAKER

In the last appearance of this column you were informed that Bill H. R. 6203 was decidedly detrimental to yachting. That bill, if passed, will force the owner of a yacht measuring 15 gross tons and over to employ a licensed master and engineer. In order to clarify the phrase "15 gross tons and over" it is well to know that the average yacht measures 40 feet on the waterline and measure 15 gross tons or over.

Even though your yacht may not have that waterline length, if you are the usual yacht owner you will keep on buying a larger boat each time you are able to do so, which simply means that it won't be many years before you are the proud possessor of that sized craft, providing Bill H. R. 6203 is defeated. If it is passed, owning a yacht of the size referred to will prove to be a luxury. Bill H. R. 6203 can be defeated if all those interested will write a letter to Hon. Sam Collins, Congressional Representative from this (19th) District. Address the letter to him in care of the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., and inform him that it is your wish that this bill be defeated. In doing this you will be speaking a language that Congressman Collins understands as he is himself an ardent yachtsman and sport fisherman. Further, he can be relied upon to use his good judgment. Write the letter NOW.

A tentative program has been worked out for the two-day celebration, set for May 23-24, to commemorate the completion of the vast improvement program at Newport Harbor. Everything points to a real celebration and advance information assures a large turnout of visiting yachts and yachtsmen. Races, stunts, music are included in the program and the outlook is most assured.

You will remember the aftermath of the Star Internationals sailed off Newport Harbor last year. One Ash Bown from San Diego was, it seems, dubbed the "bad boy" of the Star helmsmen simply because he took up the team work battle that was being waged and did a first class job of it. As his punishment he was suspended from the ranks of the I. S. C. Y. R. A. Recently there has been a rumor that he had applied for reinstatement and the Rolph Armstrong, an artist of world wide reputation has a foreign made sailing canoe which he has been sailing on the waters of Newport Bay for the last few weeks. Interest in sailing canoes is increasing as a result and plans are now under way to have a fleet of fast, sailing canoes which will fly the burgee of the Balboa Yacht club.

The Balboa Yacht club has issued a formal challenge to the Catalina Island Yacht club for the San Diego Sir Thomas Lipton trophy, now held by the latter club. The race will be sailed May 31 on Catalina Island waters with the defending club naming as their defender the six metre "Naia," owned by Dick Schayer. The first challenge this year came from the San Diego Yacht club which organization named as their challenger the R sloop "Friendship" to be sailed by Ash Bown. In accepting the challenge from an R sloop and naming as their defender a six metre sloop, it permits practically all the R's and Sixes in the southland to be named as entries in the race. As yet the Newport Harbor Yacht club has not hurried their entry. Had not their justly famous six metre skipper, Vice Commodore Bill Bartholomae, been going to Germany for the Olympic games that club would undoubtedly have challenger and named Bartholomae's "Mystery." Their action is awaited with a great deal of interest in yachting circles.

MUNITIONS

When proponents of iron-clad neutrality pleaded for a law against export of raw materials, they indicated the "greed" of business and industry by citing increased sales of war fodder to potential belligerents. But now it develops that the government really is willing to go in for this sort of trade.

That's the inside explanation for the bill to raise the capital stock of the Commodity Credit Corporation from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000. The corporation holds 4,500,000 bales of cotton which it bought for twelve cents a pound. The storage charges made the current cost per bale to the government about thirteen cents. Almost 2,000,000 bales can be sold abroad for around eleven cents, which would entail a loss of more than $12,000,000.

The increase in capitalization would enable the agency to absorb that loss, whereas the $3,000,000 figure won't. The three nations which buy most of our cotton are Germany, Japan and Great Britain. Private reports indicate that it's going into the manufacture of gunpowder, uniforms and stretchers.

LOUDER

Restless Congressmen are pestering the Townsend investigators to dig up stickier dirt on the $200-a-month promoters. They're afraid that Lawyer Sullivan may be too easy-going and methodical for the kind of an inquiry the politicians want.

The first few days' examinations were a flop from the standpoint of beleaguered candidates for reelection. Colleagues have complained to Chairman Bell that he won't hold the headlines unless he turns on the heat. The investigation produced no more color or fireworks than an amateur's church play. The caucus room isn't even equipped with a sounding board so that the few-score spectators and reporters can hear R. E. Clements testimony about fat salaries, rackets and collections.

Those attending were Mrs. Edgar Luehm, Mrs. R. E. Launer, Mrs. M. G. Renkin, Mrs. C. G. Schuepbach, Mrs. P. J. Stemple, Mrs. F. P. Davis, Mrs. E. R. Berry, Mrs. L. A. Welch, Mrs. Ed Sigmund, Mrs. J. E. Walker and Mrs. Claude Ridgway.

LA HABRA, April 3.—The Pioneer Bridge club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Armstrong on West Francis street. A dessert course was served and the afternoon spent playing bridge. Scores were recorded for the annual prizes. Mrs. Armstrong carried out the Easter motif in her appointments.

Those attending were Mrs. Edgar Luehm, Mrs. R. E. Launer, Mrs. M. G. Renkin, Mrs. C. G. Schuepbach, Mrs. P. J. Stemple, Mrs. F. P. Davis, Mrs. E. R. Berry, Mrs. L. A. Welch, Mrs. Ed Sigmund, Mrs. J. E. Walker and Mrs. Claude Ridgway.

M-G-M TEST DIRECTOR WILL COME TO SANTA ANA WITHIN NEXT FEW DAYS FOR CONTEST

Somewhere in the United States today there is an unknown girl . . . perhaps a stenographer, or a clerk, or maybe just a homegirl, who will soon be heralded throughout the world as "America's Perfect Feminine Screen Find."

But who is she? Is she you?

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the studio will arrive in this city soon on its world tour search for new screen personalities, and in connection with its visit here an opportunity will be given to local girls and children to receive actual screen and voice tests.

LEARNS MAKE-UP SECRETS

Eleanor Stewart, now under contract to M-G-M as the result of winning the Traveling Studio contest in Chicago, is shown getting a lesson in make-up from Max Factor in the motion picture capital. Marcia La Pine, Max Factor make-up artist, will tell local women make-up secrets from the Hollywood movie lots when the M-G-M Studio comes to Santa Ana next week.

wyn-Mayer, and perhaps to be assigned a part in a forthcoming picture.

C. Edward Carrier, prominent Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer test director will supervise the filming and recording of the screen and voice tests to be made here. Filming of the test will take place on the stage of the Fox Fullerton theatre on April 10th, and will present to film fans of this city an opportunity of seeing how talking pictures are made.

Of a group of girls to be tested, when the tests are completed and exhibited the following week on the screen of the Fox-Broadway Theatre, M-G-M judges will select the girl whose test is considered the most promising, and she will be named "Miss Santa Ana," and will thereby become eligible to compete with other territory winners in the national finals. The winner of the national award is the girl to be named America's Perfect Feminine Screen Find."

But this campaign is not solely opened to girls. Children between the ages of three and twelve and residents of this vicinity may also submit applications for screen and voice tests are also to be made of talented children as well.

As for the children—some lucky boy or girl will be named "Little Miss Santa Ana" or "Master Santa Ana," as the case may be, and will thereby become an entrant in the Hal Roach national finals.

The winner of the national finals will receive a three-months contract to appear in the popular Hal Roach "Our Gang" comedies, and during this period the child will receive a salary of $50.00 a week, and his or her traveling expenses to and from California will also be paid by Mr. Roach.

Mr. Roach hopes that by this means he will be able to discover new rascals for his famous gang. He is not, however, particularly interested in beautiful children. He wants kids, just plain, regular everyday kids.

So if you have a little youngster in your home with personality, talent, and human appeal, send in his or her application and photo today.

As for the girls—this is a chance of a lifetime to get into the movies. But remember, applications mailed after midnight, April 6th, will not be considered, so you'll have to hurry!

JAYSEE HONOR SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL DINNER

The annual Santa Ana Junior college Phi Theta Kappa banquet was held last night at the Doris Kathryn tea room at 6:30, following the formal initiation of new members into the chapter at 5:30 in the college library.

Those initiated into the scholastic honor society according to Miss Louise Sexton, president, were the Misses Phyllis Hannah, Helen Griggs, Margaret Blackwood, Beatrice Granas and Richard Foster, Franklin Davis and Bernard Fields. The formal ceremony was based upon the precepts of the organization, wisdom, aspiration and noble deeds.

The ceremony was participated in by Miss Katherine Belle Bolton, vice president; Miss Alice Compton, secretary; Miss Lillian Dixon, librarian; Miss Mabel Whitling, registrar; and Mr. Thomas H. Glenn, English department head.

Following the initiation the guests adjourned to the banquet.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Holmes Bishop, of Tustin.

Mr. Bishop spoke to the members on the subversive activities which are confronting the college age youth. Included in the address were comments on the questions of communism, the American League Against War, and Fascism.

During the dinner, reports were made on the recent Alpha Gamma Sigma convention held at Fullerton Junior college. The reports were under the direction of Alan MacKay, president of Alpha Gamma Sigma, and included short talks given by Gordon Bishop, Richard Foster, Miss Marian Pietke, Miss Mary Wallace, Elbert Stewart and Bernard Fields.

The banquet and initiation were attended by approximately 50 students and guests. Alpha Gamma Sigma members were guests of Phi Theta Kappa for the evening.

Membership in Phi Theta Kappa is based upon faculty election to the organization following high attainments in the scholastic field. It is the national honor society for two year college institutions. The Santa Ana chapter was the first to be granted in California.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, April 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Grant Peterson, whose marriage occurred the past week and who leave this week for San Francisco to make their home, were honored at a skating party in Long Beach recently, given by local friends. In the group were Miss Sara Louise Ostot, Donald Fitch, Henry Mitchell, Elbert Mitchell, Frank Ainsley and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson and Miss Maxima Fitch. Miss Fitch had the misfortune to sustain slight injuries while on the skating floor and has since been confined to her home.

Miss Annabel Day, who spent the spring vacation period of the Fresno State college at home, left for the north again Sunday morning as classes opened Monday morning.

Mamie Buhrlage had the misfortune to break her collar bone while playing with a group of friends at Midway City.

Seal Beach Council Adopts New Zoning Ordinance

FINAL READING IS GIVEN CITY MASTER PLAN

SEAL BEACH, April 3.—This city's zoning ordinance and master plan were formally adopted last night by the city council when the ordinance was given its final reading.

The ordinance and plan, presented by the city planning commission, regulates the size of buildings to be constructed in the future, specifies the lot space to be used for building and zones the city for various types of construction.

Sam Arvanitis, who owns a house located on a two-acre tract adjoining the city limits, applied to the council for permission to connect with the city sewer line. The application was referred to the city engineer for investigation.

The city engineer and water committee received instructions to check the application of T. M. Davis for a water connection at his place of business at 2360 Coast Highway. This services, it was said, would necessitate the laying of approximately 1500 feet of pipe along the highway.

Resignation of Raymond Wilkinson, as police officer was accepted and Robert McGrath named, temporarily, to fill the vacancy.

Signing of two contracts was authorized. One of these contracts is with the Southern California Edison company for power to be used at the new sewage treatment plant and for the municipal water system. The other contract is with Fred Mensel for use of the dump located at the Bolsa Chica sand pits.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR INLAND TOUR

NEWPORT BEACH, April 3.—Plans for the annual good will tour to inland cities by members of the Orange County Coast association and guests are being completed, according to Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce, and William Gallo, secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of commerce, who made a tour inland to choose a route for the caravan.

Coast cars will converge at the Arches at Newport Beach at 9 o'clock in the morning of April 29. They expect to arrive at Corona at 10:15 o'clock, going by the way of Santa Ana canyon, making the next stop at Riverside at about 10:45 o'clock where a half-hour stay will be made.

The caravan will go to San Bernardino by the way of Colton and Redlands, then to Uplands and Ontario, with brief stops at both places. The party will arrive at Pomona at 4 o'clock, spending a half hour there before returning to their respective localities at the beach by way of Bear canyon. A number of musicians will accompany the group.

Serving with Welch and Gallo are Mayor A. T. Smith, of San Clemente; H. H. Henshaw and George A. Portus, of Laguna Beach; David T. Prenter, of Dana Point; Paul A. Palmer, of Lido Isle, and M. M. McGrath, of Seal Beach.

APRIL WEATHER

JUNIOR HAS HIS MOMENT OF TRIUMPH WHEN, AFTER CONSIDERABLE ARGUMENT HE HAS BEEN SENT UPSTAIRS TO CHANGE HIS SHOES, AND DISCOVERS THAT ALL HIS OTHER SHOES ARE WET, TOO.

Garden Grove P. O. Receipts Show Increase

GARDEN GROVE, April 3.—Postal receipts at the Garden Grove post office for the quarter ending March 31 amounted to $2361.78, showing a gain of $334.39 over the same quarter in 1935, when sales amounted to $2023.39.

A gain was also shown for the month of March this year, when receipts amounted to $751.30 while in March 1935, receipts totaled $487.34, showing a difference of $263.97, according to a report given out by Postmaster Claire Head.

EXPECT 300 KITES FOR LAGUNA EVENT

LAGUNA BEACH, April 3.—Nearly 200 kites from Laguna Beach alone will be entered in the kite flying contest to be held on April 11 under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, it was announced today. The tourney will commence at noon and continue all through the afternoon.

Various substantial prizes will be awarded the victors in the different events. Bruce Handy and Ed Wilson, in charge of arrangements, expect over 300 entries including those danced to the radio music.

Signing of two contracts was authorized. One of these contracts is with the Southern California Edison company for power to be used at the new sewage treatment plant and for the municipal water system. The other contract is with Fred Mensel for use of the dump located at the Bolsa Chica sand pits.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR BEACH CHURCH

LAGUNA BEACH, April 3.—The Rev. Raymond I. Brabham, pastor of the Community Presbyterian church of Laguna Beach, announces special services for Palm Sunday, April 5. Musical offerings will include "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," "Behold Thy King," a trombone solo, "The Palms," by Cleo Allen Hibbs, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Lauretta Chilton, "Ride On, Ride On in Majesty."

At the vesper services at 5 p.m., Cleo Allen Hibbs will sing "Thine is the Power and the Glory" and a cello solo will be rendered by Jack Lightart. The Rev. Mr. Brabham, preaching at both the morning and evening services, has chosen themes appropriate to Palm Sunday.

Sister Honored At Card Affair

LA HABRA, April 3.—As a farewell compliment to her sister, Miss Emma Leuth, who has been spending the winter here, Mrs. W. F. Heiden entertained with a bridge luncheon at her home on Whittier boulevard Wednesday afternoon. Spring flowers, with sweet peas predominating, were used in decorating the home and luncheon tables.

Prizes in the bridge games were presented to Mrs. Robert Gilmore, first; Mrs. Henry Homier, of Whittier, second; Mrs. William Gluth, of La Habra, third; Mrs. Grady Hicks, of Whittier, fourth; Mrs. William Sucksdorf, of La Habra; Mrs. W. F. Mundt, Mrs. Louise Espolt of Whittier.

P.T.A. HOLDS CARD PARTY IN LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, April 3.—Members of the Laguna Beach Elementary School P.T.A. sponsored a successful April fool party Wednesday night, Mrs. Emil Wickman, president, announced today that it is hoped to make the party an annual event.

More than 150 guests gathered in the auditorium of the new grammar school to enjoy the various forms of entertainment provided by the committees in charge. Refreshments were the first item on the program. Cake and coffee were served from tables attractively decorated with garden flowers, and presided over by Mesdames Harold Stover, Ajax Wolf, Emil Wickman and Jujon-Roche.

Charles Gilmore, as master of ceremonies, auctioned off cakes.

The door prize, a fine potted begonia plant, was won by Mrs. Brayton Norton.

Card tables had been arranged in the upper halls, where are displayed some of the choicest pieces by George K. Brandriff. Meanwhile, games of various kinds were enjoyed by the guests in the auditorium, where Mrs. Ajax Wolf was in charge. Keeno and hash proved popular, with monopoly attracting a large group, while others danced to the radio music.

Mrs. John Brenot, as general chairman, was assisted by the following sub-committee chairmen: Mrs. Jujon-Roche, decorations; Mrs. Ajax Wolf, games; Mrs. Charles Bothamly and Mrs. Harold Stover, games; Mrs. N. B. Monk and Mrs. William Sucksdorf, tallies and score-cards; Mrs. John Gibson, cards and tables; Mrs. Leslie Kimmell, bridge and publicity.

New books include: "Insect Book," Howard; "The Radio Amateur's Handbook for 1936"; "The Winged Girl of Knossos," Berry; "Dyke's Automobile and Gasoline Encyclopedia," Dyke; "Famous American Trains and Their Stories," Reynolds; "Abridged Decimal Classification," Dewey; "Martin Comby's Vengeance," Farnol; "Woman in Love," Norris; "Somebody Must," Rosman; "Ragged Messenger," Maxwell; "You Can't Learn 'em Nothin'," Glass; "Second Honeymoon," Ayers; "Tavern Knight," Sabatin; "Hoplagon Cassidy and Eagle's Brood," Muiford; "Justice of Peace," Nivens; "Army With Banners," Mitchell; "Family Matters," Mauch;

"The White Reef," Ostenson; "Life's Like That," Carfrae; "Salome Jane's Kiss," Hart; "Year of Delight," Widemer; "Keziah Coffin," Lincoln; "Huntington Shirt," Johnston; "World Almanac, 1936"; "The Goose Step," Sinclair; "Procession," Hurst; "On the Island That Cost $24.00," Cobb; "Havoc," Van de Water; "The Mother," Duncan; "Blanket of Bar," Buchan; "Crown for Carlotta," Henderson; "Sweepings," Cohen; "The Stars Look Down," Cronin; "Beauty," Baldwin; "Cloud Howe," Mitchell; "Soldiers of Fortune," Davis; "Old Enchantment," Barretto.

The first project started under the city's development program was the sewage treatment plant which is nearing completion. The second was the jetty at Anaheim bay. Work on this project is also under way with workmen making rapid progress.

All three of the projects are being completed with federal aid and through bond issues approved more than a year ago.

and Mrs. Louis Homier, of Whittier, chair prize.

Others present were Mrs. William Helden, of Anaheim; Mrs. Virgil House, of Yorba Linda; Mrs. R. F. Frantz, Mrs. Glyn Anabel, Mrs. Arthur Sucksdorf, Mrs. Louis Muchow, Mrs. L. H. Brewer and Mrs. A. V. Douglas, of La Habra; Mrs. W. F. Mundt, Mrs. Louise Espolt of Whittier.

Prizes in the bridge games were presented to Mrs. Robert Gilmore, first; Mrs. Henry Homier, of Whittier, second; Mrs. William Gluth, of La Habra, third; Mrs. Grady Hicks, of Whittier, fourth; Mrs. William Sucksdorf, of La Habra; Mrs. W. F. Mundt, Mrs. Louise Espolt of Whittier.

FIVE POINTS WELL PUMPING 300 BARRELS OF OIL DAILY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 3.—The Twentieth Century Oil company's well at Five Points is pumping approximately 300 barrels of oil daily into the tanks. Prior to last night the well was pumping 300 barrels of fluid but the output was mostly mud and water. The well is clearing up and the operators believe the oil content will increase.

The well was brought in from the depth of about 4500 feet on the pump. Oil men say the new well may be an extension of the Huntington Beach field to the west or it may be an outcrop well of a new field running easterly toward the Santa Ana river.

The first attempt to further explore the Five Points field is showing in the erection of a derrick east of the discovery well on the division line of the Jim Dunn and J. W. Williams land. This will be the second test of the new area. It is just below the mesa bluff.

LAGUNA BEACH, April 3.—When the spring flower show, sponsored by the Laguna Beach Garden club, opened at noon today, 14 well known Laguna Beach women, members of the sponsoring club, were on the committee serving as doorkeepers for the two-day show.

OFFICERS FOR COAST WATER GROUP NAMED

SOUTH LAGUNA, April 3.—E. L. Crawford and other officers of the South Coast Water district were re-elected yesterday when directors of that organization held their first meeting since the recent district election.

Crawford was re-elected president of the board, George Grant, manager, and Mrs. Lillian Ward, Fink and A. M. Simmons.

When the doors opened exhibits entered in the competition this year far exceeded those of previous years. A new method of judging entries has been adopted for the showing this season. Each patron is given a judging blank at the door and marks his or her selection in each classification. The blanks are turned in at the door and judges will announce the selections after tabulating the choices.

Action on filing the application of the district for membership in the Metropolitan Water district, scheduled for last night, was delayed due to the non-arrival of data necessary to the formal filing of the application. This information has been applied for from the Metropolitan Water district.

Under the present plan the district will apply for membership in the Metropolitan Water district, thus assuring a permanent water supply for that four mile strip, south of the Laguna Beach city limits, including Coast Royal, Three Arches, Three Arch Bay and Also. The district embraces approximately 1000 acres of land.

New books include: "Insect Book," Howard; "The Radio Amateur's Handbook for 1936"; "The Winged Girl of Knossos," Berry; "Dyke's Automobile and Gasoline Encyclopedia," Dyke; "Famous American Trains and Their Stories," Reynolds; "Abridged Decimal Classification," Dewey; "Martin Comby's Vengeance," Farnol; "Woman in Love," Norris; "Somebody Must," Rosman; "Ragged Messenger," Maxwell; "You Can't Learn 'em Nothin'," Glass; "Second Honeymoon," Ayers; "Tavern Knight," Sabatin; "Hoplagon Cassidy and Eagle's Brood," Muiford; "Justice of Peace," Nivens; "Army With Banners," Mitchell; "Family Matters," Mauch;

"The White Reef," Ostenson; "Life's Like That," Carfrae; "Salome Jane's Kiss," Hart; "Year of Delight," Widemer; "Keziah Coffin," Lincoln; "Huntington Shirt," Johnston; "World Almanac, 1936"; "The Goose Step," Sinclair; "Procession," Hurst; "On the Island That Cost $24.00," Cobb; "Havoc," Van de Water; "The Mother," Duncan; "Blanket of Bar," Buchan; "Crown for Carlotta," Henderson; "Sweepings," Cohen; "The Stars Look Down," Cronin; "Beauty," Baldwin; "Cloud Howe," Mitchell; "Soldiers of Fortune," Davis; "Old Enchantment," Barretto.

The final benefit of the current ways and means committee will be held at the clubhouse the evening of April 24. Prizes will be awarded for both bridge and "500" and refreshments will be served.

This year's winners are Claudia Jones, first; Otis Scott, second; and Mrs. B. Hendricks, first and second; James Dunbar and Bruce Stewart, first and second; bridge awards. Prizes in "500" went to Mrs. Eleonore Jones and Mrs. Priscilla Watson, first; M. D. Coger and Fred Greenawalt, second; and Mrs. John T. Frazier, third.

The judges were Mrs. C. L. Brewster, Mrs. J. W. Smith and Mrs. John T. Frazier.

"How about my flowered organdy?"

Toby Ryan, 19, a commercial model, posing for photographs to be used in advertisements. She shares an apartment with HARRIET HOLM, also a model.

At a charity style open house, Mrs. Wealthy TIM JAMIESON was shown a great deal of attention for a time. Tim leaves town for "a few days," promising to call again as soon as he returns. The time stretches out and word comes from him.

HILL BRAZOT, an old friend of Toby, asks her to dinner, but she refuses, preferring to stay at home waiting to hear from Tim.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXI

THERE WAS NO TIME NEXT DAY FOR

Toby to sit at home waiting for messages from Tim Jamieson. At 8:30 a call came from the Models' League. Marty Hiatt wanted Toby to pose for some magazine illustrations and the job was to be "on location."

Toby knew what that meant—making pictures outside the studio, some place where the background and surroundings were exactly what they were supposed to be instead of studio props.

"You're to be at Hiatt's studio at 11 o'clock," Sally told her.

"Yes."

"You'll need a thin summer dress—not an evening dress, the sort you might put on on a summer afternoon if you wanted to be a little bit dressed up. It should have ruffles or lace, something sort of frilly. The color doesn't matter, so long as it's light. Have you anything like that?"

"I'll get it," Toby promised.

"White shoes and light hose, of course. Then you'll need a sweater that will photograph dark and a light skirt. That's all. Remember you're to be at the studio at 11."

Toby said she'd remember, and put down the telephone. "I've got to have a frilly summer dress," she told Harriet. "Where on earth do you suppose I can find one?"

"How about my flowered organdy?"

Toby shook her head. "No, it isn't supposed to be an evening dress. It's to wear in the afternoon. I'll have to buy something, I guess, but where can I find a dress like that at this time?"

It was the last week in March—too early for new summer dresses in the shops, months since the last from the year before had disappeared.

"That's the way," Harriet grumbled. "They always want summer clothes in winter and winter ones in summer."

Toby dressed hurriedly and set off on her shopping trip. She went to four stores before she found a dress that was summery-looking, with short sleeves and frills at the neck. It was in the "home frocks" department—too big but it could be pinned over in the back. The dress was crisp and fresh and in a photograph it would look like a delicate wof or organdy.

But the shopping had taken time. Toby, glancing at a clock on a building across the street, saw that she had less than an hour to get back to the apartment, press the new dress, pack it with the other things she must take, and reach the studio.

She did it, though. She stopped to buy fresh light hose and then rushed home. Five minutes before 11 o'clock, carrying her worse-for-wear suitcase, she pushed open the door of Hiatt's studio.

Then they went out to the porch and Frazier explained the pose. Mrs. Gregg sat in a low, old-fashioned chair and Toby on the step below. Frazier was exacting and the scene, though it was simple enough, had to be rehearsed and tried from several angles. At last Frazier was satisfied and the cam-

URGES AUTOIST MODEL AFTER TRUCK DRIVER

Maybe the truck driver isn't such a bad guy after all, when it comes to operating along the highways of California, or elsewhere, according to word from Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles, today, when he pointed out the excellency of the truck driver's driving record generally.

"If you would drive your automobile safely, take a lesson from operators of trucks employed by the industries of California," says Ingels. "Although motorists are in the habit of 'cussing' trucks, when questioned closely, they will admit that the 'cussing' is aimed at the bulk of the conveyances and not at the operator of the truck, who, nine times out of 10, is more courteous to fellow highway users than is the pleasure-car driver."

Commending the truck drivers for their practice of the art of highway signalling, Ingels points out that the operator of a truck recognizes that the other fellow's life is in danger more than his own usually, when warnings of highway maneuvers are not made.

"It is not too much to say that if the owners of pleasure cars would cooperate one-tenth as much with the department of motor vehicles and its highway patrol officers as do the operators of trucks, accidents could be reduced to the minimum in the state. The rapid manner in which truck owners equipped their vehicles with the reflectors, warning signs, flares, etc., as demanded by the last legislature is an outstanding indication that the commercial interests using our highways are determined to do their share to prevent injury and loss of life."

The fact that many of the large truck users of the state are holding classes for operators of their vehicles won particular commendation from Ingels, who is endeavoring to have communities follow this plan of the industries by establishing municipal traffic schools.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Courts

LA HABRA, April 3.—L. L. Beeman, member of the faculty of the Santa Ana Junior college, was the speaker at this week's Kiwanis club meeting. Beeman spoke concerning the supreme court.

Beeman stated that less confusion would be in existence if the minor courts could not declare laws unconstitutional. At present, he said, that there are nearly 150 courts with the power to declare laws unconstitutional and that this causes confusion and delay.

JIMMY FIDLER in — HOLLYWOOD —

HOLLYWOOD, April 3.—Two pathetic sights: a chicken, or a Hollywood picture premiere in a heavy rain. How fine feathers droop! Half the sparkle of a Hollywood premiere is the milling throng that gathers to gape as jewel-be-studded stars parade from shining limousines, past batteries of arc lights and cameras, into yawning cinema portals. Rain does not keep away the arc lights and cameras, but except for a few hardy souls—perhaps old sea captains accustomed to stormy weather—fans are content to sit home and hear the dripping details via the radio.

Sometimes stars who actually draw up to the front of the theaters on rainy nights do not enter. These come only for the purpose of preening gay feathers before thousands of fans. When there are no fans, there is no reason for them to 'arrive.' What is an arrival sans cries of 'There she is!' and the handclaps of the multitude?

Those who do not attend wet premieres present a dismayingly picture. Bundled in coats, concealed beneath umbrellas, fluffy skirts drawn close and lifted to escape slushing, they are a far cry from the glamorous creatures that bloom and flower as they mince down the avenue of staring eyes on brighter evenings. I sometimes wonder which group curses the cloudbursts most fervently: the theater owners who lose the prestige that comes of having thousands gather around his doors, the producer who hopes to derive national publicity from a successful premiere, or the fans who get a real kick out of standing for hours on the streets to view their favorites at close range.

Here is the latest thing in Hollywood diets: breakfast, one large glass orange juice, large slice of ham, two eggs, French fried potatoes, stack of hot cakes, and coffee. Luncheon: soup, salad, meatballs and spaghetti, rolls, French pastry, and coffee. Dinner: cocktail, soup, salad, New York cut steak, potatoes, two vegetables, hot biscuits, pie, and coffee. Very dishes daily, and add a midnight snack if hunger calls. This diet comes to me direct from Oliver "Babe" Hardy.

Julius Tannen, for long years popular on the vaudeville stage, yesterday harked back a few years and told me of the time when he and Will Rogers were playing the Poli theater in Hartford, Connecticut. Tannen noticed that Rogers seemed deep in thought, so he asked a question or two. "I'm in love, Julius," explained the then youthful Will. "I guess I'd ought to get married, if Betty'll have me." With that, Rogers went to the producer and asked for two weeks off. Next day he

DESIGNS SUBTLE IN NEW CLOTHING

All this talk of colored stripes and variegated checks may sound as if Eastern suits will be pretty wacky. Nothing could be further from the truth. The fact is that the new liveliness of color has been introduced so subtly that the most conservative banker can pamper his sartorial timidity and still be noted by the style-wise as a fashionably dressed man. And on the other hand, there are plenty of vociferous patterns for them as likes the color in their clothes to be unequivocal.

Foremost colors in stripes are red and blue. These are equally good on dark grounds and on springtime grays, where the blue is usually light in tone. Brown suits are livened up with yellow, orange and red stripes.

Cheeks and oversquares are usually restrained on business suits, and come into their full glory in sport clothes, where the springtime sky seems to be the limit. Windowpane checks are popular, and show a tendency to growth.

'RULES OF THE ROAD' ARE OUTLINED BY TRAFFIC COP

By MALCOLM BOSTWICK

One of Santa Ana's keenest witted traffic cops and one who, like all the rest, kinda boils over occasionally "just to keep my feelings under good control," sat down to his typewriter the other evening after an encounter with an "unthinking" motorist and as he expresses it, "spouted off." He feels better now.

He simply wrote down "Rules of the Road." Here they are, according to one of the score of officers in Orange county who try to help motorists keep from killing themselves:

Always drive at least 70 miles per hour—the salesmen tell you your car will travel that fast, so why not use all of your speed?

When you hear a siren, stay in the center of the road as the officer probably isn't in a hurry anyway; he is probably just going to lunch.

When out driving and you have a friend in the rear seat, always turn around and point out all of the points of interest to him as he may miss some if you don't, especially the hospitals. Never make a boulevard stop. Those stops are put there for other drivers, not you. Always pass a truck on the brow of a hill; the ceiling of a hospital room is beautiful and will remind you of home. Never give a signal as the driver behind is probably a psychic and can read your mind away.

Use Your Horn

Use your horn as much as possible; it will tend to draw everyone's attention to the fact you have the car out and will give you publicity. Never stop for a pedestrian—roads were built for cars and the money you pay for auto license should entitle you to a free ride.

Don't pay any attention to your lights, the other fellow probably keeps his in good condition and it will be lots of fun to see him try to keep his car on the road without hitting you. Always stop in the center of the street; someone else may want to park next to the curb, and you will be doing him a favor. Never pay any attention to an officer's signal; he is probably just doing his setting-up exercises, anyway. If a motor officer stops you, pay no attention to him; tell him who you are as probably it's because he didn't know you that he stopped you at all.

When parking, always pick out a nice big fire plug to park in front of; if there should happen to be an earthquake, it would stop your car from running down the street. When passing another car, always cut in as close as possible. The driver may have the hiccoughs and a scare is a good remedy.

Try to Beat Trains

Try to beat all trains to the crossings; if you do, it's a good trick and if you don't, your family can collect your insurance, anyway. If you come upon an accident, always stop and leave your car in the street; there probably won't be anything but an ambulance want through anyhow, and the officer in charge just loves to answer questions as he hasn't anything else to do, anyhow. When going through a school zone, drive as fast as your car will go; it's lots of fun to see the little children try to dodge you; they are so agile.

Put as large a cut-out on your car as you can buy; the people you pass appreciate knowing that your motor is hitting on all the cylinders, especially late at night. If you doubt the traffic cop who

CRIPPLED DONS
UPSET INDIANS
BY SIX POINTS

By MARVIN SPICER

Santa Ana track customers today were assuring each other that this year's edition of Coach Bill Cook's junior college cinder squad is not only one of the best to represent the Don institution but the most unfortunate.

Dogged by injuries and illness, the Dons nevertheless carried enough power here yesterday to sweep past their last serious milestone of this spring's Eastern conference dual meet race, defeating San Bernardino, 65-1-2, 62-1-2. One affair, that with Pomona's hapless Red Raiders, April 15, Jimmy Noe is all that is left of the 1936 dual meet schedule for Santa Ana. Because of Eastern vacation the Dons will not be in action next week.

Frank Boyd lost his last chance to break records on a local track when his injured heel failed to respond to treatment. The fleet Kansan took a nose dive over a hurdle last week and sprained a tendon in his right foot. At the first of the week it looked as if he would be able to run the hurdles but yesterday Cook decided it was better to be safe than sorry.

A charley horse kept Bill Greshner from taking part in any of the races. However, the versatile freshman was able to capture a first in the shot put.

It became evident yesterday that the fastest-improving athlete in the Don troupe is Bob Clark. Orange weight man, the Jayvee is Clark's specialty. In the last two meets he has added almost 20 feet to his efforts. Yesterday the medium-sized strongman flipped the spear 166 feet to annex first place.

Jimmy Noe proved that his failure to clear 11 feet last week against Chaffey was a fluke when he jackedified over 12 feet, 3 inches. He barely missed at 12-9, a new school record. The Don aviator is one of the most consistent vaulters in the league.

Other reassuring performances were turned in by Sprinter Vernon Koepsel, rounding into condition again after a long siege with the flu. Koepsel merely strided through the 100 and 220 in fair time. He said he would work out daily during spring vacation at Newport Harbor's track.

Santa Ana scored sweeps in the shot put and broad jump. Greshner, Wilburn Anderson and Art Craft blanketed the Indians in the weight event while Al Parr, Hal Luton and Cameron Gillis finished one-two-three in the pit. San Bernardino came nearest to scoring cleanly when Bill Smith and Moore placed first and second in the mile. In addition to taking the mile, Smith trotted in ahead of Joe Fries in the two-mile to win the eight lap grind in 10 min. 8 sec.

The summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Koepsel (SA), Pierce (SB) second, Parr (SA) third, Gillis (SA) fourth.
220-yard dash—Won by Koepsel (SA), E. Wieman (SB) second, Anderson (SA) third, Time, 23 sec.
440-yard dash—Won by Paige (SA), Anderson (SA) second, Matzen (SA) third, Time, 42 sec.

100-yard low hurdles—Won by E. Wieman (SB), Reff (SA) second, Guthrie (SA) third, Time, 16.1 sec.
120-yard high hurdles—Won by E. Wieman (SB), Reff (SA) second, Guthrie (SA) third, Time, 16.1 sec.
880-yard run—Won by H. Wieman (SB), Clark (SA) second, Sherman (SB) third, Time, 2 min. 4.9 sec.
Shot put—Won by Clark (SA), Sherman (SA) second, Luton (SA) third, Time, 40 ft. 4 in.; Anderson (SA) second, 39 ft. 8 in.; Craft (SA) third, 39 ft. 8 in.

Discus—Won by E. Wieman (SB), 13 ft. 10 in.; Craft (SA), second, 11 ft. 7 in.; Anderson (SA) third, 11 ft. 2 in.

Javelin—Won by E. Clark (SA), 166 ft. 5 in.; Stanton (SB) second, 165 ft. 8 in.; Anderson (SA) third, 164 ft. 4 in.

High jump—Won by Suter (SA), Reff (SA) second, Griffith (SA) third, height, 5 ft. 11 in.

DEALING MOSTLY IN PERSONALITIES OF THE DAY

Johnny Cross thinks a heavy black border should encompass this tragic little story. And no longer does he believe in an only whimsy that "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

You see they called the name of the former Santa Ana tennis champion in an Anaheim theater last night. It was "bank night."

But Cross wasn't there. His non-appearance cost him just $550. Soft music, professor!

Joe Mene, young Anaheim outfielder with the Los Angeles Angels, crashed into the wire screen at Wrigley field a few minutes before the opening game of the Pacific Coast league season last Saturday. He was chasing a fly.

His hand was injured and Manager Jack Lalivelle sent Menemone. The kid had been promised a spot in the Angels' lineup Sunday.

Mene had his hand x-rayed. Today it was learned several bones were broken. Joe will be out of action six weeks. So near and yet so far!

University of Southern Californians trooped to the polls today to vote for student body officers.

But not for Joe Preininger, husky football player from Santa Ana, who was once running for president. Preininger withdrew in favor of Roy Draper, the Trojan sprinter.

Jim Musick has three little brothers, and all of 'em size up like good football players.

Bill is expected to be a hell-leather fullback on the Saint first string next fall. Bob is the best kicker and passer at Julia Lathrop junior high school. Little Jack in grade school is Musick all over.

Sweet Musick for Santa Ana. Sure notes for the opposition.

Little Lathrop brothers like to outdo big brothers.

Starring on Coach Lester Archibald's Spartan track squad this season is Robert Fries, 15-year-old side Wheeler of Joe, the Jayvee two-miler.

Last week and again yesterday, the Trojans 'warm up' in MEET AT FRESNO

MACON, Ga.—Manager "Bucky" Harrel of the Washington Nationals has signed his new catcher, Walter Miller, from Birmingham. In addition and found him to his liking. Miller worked three innings in the Nats' 4 to 1 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday.

CLARKSDALE, Miss.—The New York Giants hoped to even their racing tales with the Cleveland Indians here today. The Indians are one game up on the Giants, having won five out of nine. The Giants won yesterday's game, 6-5, in a nail-biter on a double by Charley English and a single by George Davis.

LAKELAND, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers broke camp today and headed north with 20 players on their squad. They include 11 pitchers, three catchers, seven infielders and five outfielders.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—Wayne Osborne, right handed pitcher, who failed to make good with the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been purchased from the Mississippi club of the Pacific Coast league by the Boston Bees. The Bees are waiting to entrain for Florida when he ran across Bob Quinn, president of the Bees, and informed him he was on his way back to the Coast League. Quinn wired Osborne and it was accepted. Osborne won 11 games and lost 7 last season.

ATLANTA, Ga.—The New York Yankees came here today without Ben Chapman, who remained at his home in Birmingham threatening to quit baseball. "Pay me or trade me," Chapman said. The Yankees' Manager Joe McCarthy said Chapman would either play with the Yanks or not at all.

The Boston Bees today signed Pitcher Wayne Osborne, formerly of the San Francisco Missions and more recently on trial with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Osborne had been released yesterday by Brooklyn and was ready to return to the Missions. The Dodgers declined to complete the purchase of Osborne.

Osborne met Bob Quinn, head of the Boston club, and Quinn wired the Missions an offer which was accepted. Osborne left for Savannah with the Bees.

A year ago last winter the Pittsburgh Pirates bought Osborne for $20,000, paying $5000 down. He was returned to the Missions in May when Pittsburgh Manager Pie Traynor refused to pay the balance of $15,000.

WIFE, MOTHER and CHAMPION SPORTSWOMAN

Glenna Collett Vare wasn't busy enough as the nation's best woman golfer, even after she married and had children—so now she has entered two new fields, and is heading for the top in them as well

Glenna Collett Vare, who thinks no game is worth playing unless you get plenty of fun out of it—and who figures you won't get the fun if you take the game too seriously. . . At the right of the page is a glimpse of Mrs. Vare as she looked when she first won the United States women's golf championship, at the age of 19.

himself is a very fine golfer, though at present he has switched his allegiance to dogs. He has a number of them in training throughout the country.

"Early last December we both went to Pinehurst, where my favorite pointer, Tips Manitoba Jake, which my husband gave me for a Christmas present last year, took the all-age stake at the field trials of the Pointers Club of America. Mr. Vare is down in Alabama at some field trials now with his setter, Bellview Bob, which seems to be a very promising animal.

"My husband is an excellent shot, too, and has won many trophies. I am on the Merion Gun Club team now and though I did recently shoot 49 out of 50 clay pigeons, I do not consider myself really expert. Trapshooting requires and brings about a great deal of concentration, but somehow you can get an excellent score one week only to find that the next time you try you will get horrible results.

"It is always fun, though, and our team has been practicing consistently. We have mixed meets with the men on Sundays and I think we shoot about as well as they do."

Mrs. Vare's sports activities have not diminished at all since her marriage in 1931 to Edwin H. Vare, Jr., son of the late state senator and Republican leader, Edwin H. Vare, and nephew of the contractor, William S. Vare. She spends time with her children, little Glenna, who is two and a half years old, and Edwin Collett, who was born in June, 1934, almost every morning and afternoon.

MRS. VARE intends to encourage them both to be interested in athletics and she has their first pair of shoes, covered with gold, standing in the case with her trophies.

Her house runs smoothly and comfortably; she says that she solves her difficulties by making as little fuss as possible over unimportant items and allowing the maid, the cook, the nurse, and the butler to take care of their own particular domains. She often does the marketing and gets a great deal of pleasure out of shopping.

"Certainly I believe that women should go in for sports—as many as they like," declares Mrs. Vare. "I don't think sports should be given first place in life, however, to the detriment of everything else. There are some girls who live all year just for the championship tournaments and take their defeats or victories very seriously, entirely out of proportion to their real value.

"For that reason, as well as for many others, I am glad I am married, because marriage gives one a much healthier and better perspective as well as a host of interests. There is no doubt that golf is a pleasant pastime, which encourages soundness, sanity, and clear-headedness, but unless it also gives fun to the golfer, I do not see much sense to it.

"One reason why I think golf is an excellent sport for women is that it really requires no sacrifices that a girl would not like to make. Besides, it gives a girl a chance to rely on her own strength and provides her with the joy of independent achievement.

"I HAVE often been asked whether I think women should compete with men in sports, but I feel that this would be inadvisable in competitive tournaments.

"Women do not have the physical prowess of men and the matches would therefore be unequal. Men are unquestionably so much stronger than women that I think the proper and fair competitions are those between women.

"Recently Gene Sarazen told me that Babe Didrikson seems to be made of iron, and never gets tired. Although she has been playing golf only three years, she scores in the low 70's, a very unusual score for all women.

"Perhaps Babe Didrikson is an exception and really has as much physical stamina as a man, but in general I do not see the point of women competing with men for titles.

"Tennis, riding, swimming, squash—all are fine sports for young women. But golf, it seems to me, is excellent for the woman of any and every age, and therefore has it over the other sports as far as my sex is concerned. Golf is a game as well as a sport; it teaches broad-mindedness and sportsmanship and, like the honor system in school, requires of its participants honesty, generosity, fair-mindedness, and self-control.

"I myself happen not to be a nervous or temperamental person, but my advice to all women who go in for sports competitions is to try always to give the outward appearance of calm, no matter how upset they may feel inside. If you keep your nerve and have confidence in yourself, you are sure to give a much better performance."

The former Glenna Collett and her husband, Edwin H. Vare, Jr., with Mrs. Vare's dog, "Tips Manitoba Jake," which won the all-age stake at the field trial of the Pointers Club of America last December.

Their prophecies came true. She beat the Canadian champion, Mrs. W. A. Gavin, at White Sulphur Springs in 1922, thus becoming United States Women's golf champion at the age of 19. Three years later, she won the title again by defeating Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, and in 1928, 1929, and 1930 she repeated her victories, getting a lower score than such an accomplished player as Virginia Van Wie. Last year Mrs. Vare took the national championship for the sixth time, when she outplayed the 17-year-old schoolgirl, Patty Berg.

Besides winning United States national awards, she has captured a host of foreign honors, like the French and Canadian national women's championships, but not including the British, which has always evaded her; she has received practically every worthwhile title in the eastern, south, north and metropolitan districts, and any number of club cups. In addition to playing golf, Mrs. Vare has written a book on the sport, which she called "Ladies in the Rough," as well as a number of newspaper and magazine articles for various publications, including "The American Golfer," of which she is associate woman's editor.

"THOUGH I am as firmly convinced as ever that golf is the best sport for women, since it depends on skill rather than strength," Mrs. Vare says, "and though I think I would list it as my own favorite pastime, I have recently become extremely interested in trapshooting, and raising pointers and setters.

"It so happens that I met my husband more than 10 years ago, and we often played golf together. He watched me in practically all of the major tournaments in which I played. He

Farm Bureau May Erect Own Headquarters Building

RESIDENT OF ORANGE COUNTY 28 YEARS DIES

sister, Mrs. George Ellison of Del Rio, Tenn., and one granddaughter, Mrs. J. H. Byrd of Anaheim. Funeral services will be conducted from the Hilgenfeld Funeral home tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Ray C. Harker, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be made in the Anaheim cemetery.

DOGS RUSH CAMERAS

Thomas J. Cooper, 75, a native of Tennessee who came to Southern California more than 28 years ago and who had resided in Anaheim for more than 22 years, passed away at an Orange hospital yesterday after an extended illness.

He is survived by one son, Andrew C. Cooper of Anaheim; one

DIRECTORS OF BUREAU MEET TO TALK PLANS

Possibility of the Orange County Farm Bureau erecting its own building, within the year, loomed today following a session of the board of directors.

Directors of the Farm Bureau met yesterday and authorized the Ways and Means committee of the organization to make a study relative to the cost and need for a building constructed to house the Farm Bureau.

According to Executive-Secretary R. D. Flaherty, the present quarters, in Medical Building, 622 North Main street, are being leased under very favorable terms. The lease, however, has only one more year to run and officers of the Farm Bureau doubt that it can be renewed on such favorable terms.

Under the authority given it yesterday by the board of directors the Ways and Means committee of the Farm Bureau will conduct a survey involving the needs of the organization for a new building, possible sites and the estimated cost of constructing a building of the type needed for the organization.

Auditorium Planned

Flaherty said that the type of building to be constructed, if the decision is reached to go ahead with building plans, would include a main auditorium for meetings by large groups and two or three small rooms where smaller groups in the organization could hold meetings. In addition to the meeting rooms offices for the organization would be included.

He said that in the event the Farm Bureau does decide to erect a building the West Orange Farm Center, in all probability, would use the auditorium for its regular meetings.

The proposal to build an headquarters building has been considered for more than a year but the increasing scope of work handled through the various departments, the Home Department and the boys' and girls' clubs has made the need acute.

Just for curiosity's sake, a census of Register folk was made recently, with amazing results when it was realized what a variety of birthplaces was represented.

What state in the Union do you think was in the lead? Ah-ha! We knew you'd guess Iowa. You're wrong. California herself tied for honors with Minnesota!

Each is represented by eight members on the staff, and Iowa is lagging behind with Ohio as her running mate, each of them boasting a half dozen native sons—daughters—now adopted by California.

Missouri has always been famous for its mules, so perhaps the five Missourians on the staff wanted to get away from that association. Anyway they are here in California—and with the Register. Indiana and South Dakota run neck and neck, with four Hoosiers and an equal number of South Dakotans representing their native commonwealths.

The typical Kentucky drawl is heard from three children of Dixie, and "Bloody Kansas" and Illinois are represented by the same number.

Oklahoma Trails

Oklahoma comes trailing along with two representatives, after which come the various states that have each contributed one voter to California and one member to the Register family. From Delaware and New York on the eastern coast have they come, and from the Mother Colony of Massachusetts, center of the new world's culture. But if the states of the Atlantic seaboard are represented, so too are those of the Pacific. For both Washington and Oregon are claimed as native states by Register folk.

And in between might be introduced one hailing from the beautiful lake country of Wisconsin or the moss-festooned swamplands of Tennessee; the peninsular state of Michigan where automobiles grow on bushes, or Utah which Brigham Young made famous as the Mohammedan dream of Paradise; the high-flung mesas and crystalline air of Arizona or the rounded hills of Nebraska.

One From Canada

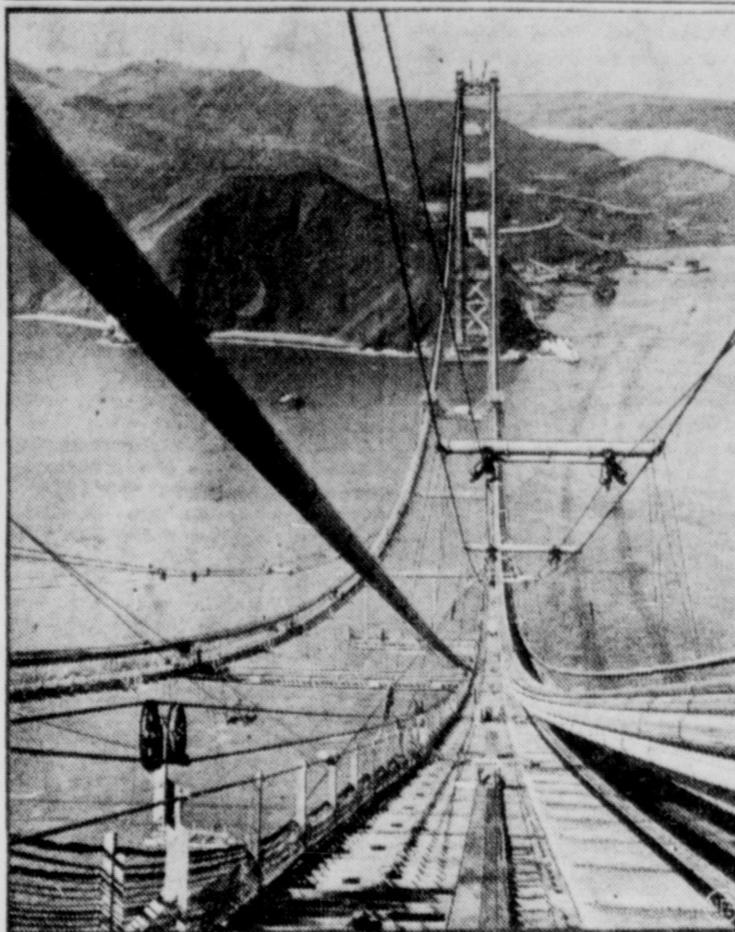

Nor is that all. To echo the melancholy old song, "We Gather Them In" from foreign lands as well, especially from that one upon which the sun never sets. From Canada, one of Great Britain's foremost colonies, comes one representative, while another hails directly from England, exchanging roast beef and apple tart for sand-dabs, abalone steaks, trifles and oranges—that you-can't-pick-yourself. Wales not to be outdone, has produced another, who is slowly forgetting the double elts and the strange juxtaposition of G and W in Welsh names, while as for Bonnie Scotland—you should just see what happens when he hears the skirt o' the pipes!

DEATH RATE DECREASES

MOSCOW—(UP)—Cited as evidence of improved conditions of health in Moscow, the department of vital statistics reveals figures showing that in 1935 the death rate was decreased by 15.5 per cent compared with 1934, while the birth rate increased 18 per cent.

BIG TASK NEARLY DONE

The immense task of spinning 80,000 miles of wire into suspension cables for the world's greatest single span suspension bridge—the Golden Gate Bridge at San Francisco—nears completion, and here's how the job looks now: To the left looking across the "Gate" towards Marin County, can be seen one of the strands ready to be moved over to the main cable at right. Each strand contains more than 250 wires each a quarter of an inch thick. Into each of the main cables goes 61 such strands.

FOUR ONE-ACT PLAYS TO BE STAGED HERE

With departure this afternoon for Los Angeles of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Swarthout, 119 Bachman drive, who will spend spring vacation in the city, it was necessary to devote last night's rehearsals for the approaching Community Players' program or original one-acts, to that in which Mrs. Swarthout has part, since she will be absent until just before production on April 14.

Rehearsals of this group of four plays—work of local playwrights—are of almost nightly occurrence, and like the major production rehearsals, are staged in the home of Mrs. Charles A. Riggs, 901 Spurgeon street. Those congregated last night under direction of Gladys Simpson Shafer, formed the cast for "The Last Hour," historical play by Arthur Collins. They were Mary Swarthout, Edith Ellis, Daniel Brown, Glenn Shaw and John Colwell.

Moving Episode

Inspiration for "The Last Hour" was gained by Arthur Collins from the life of Marie Antoinette, and he has depicted in poetic form a strangely moving episode in what was truly the tragic queen's "last hour." Mrs. Swarthout and Mrs. Ellis made last night's rehearsal a dress one as well, appearing in the gowns of the period, the former in the funeral prison garb. If this striking one-act may be taken as an example of what the community's amateur playwrights can accomplish, the audience is assured of an interesting evening on April 14 in Ebell auditorium. There is a striking variety in subject matter, locale, time and characters in the four plays chosen from those submitted to the contest judges.

"Following Always," the fantasy by Pauline Flint of Orange, is for instance, given a seaside setting and is on a tragic theme. It employs but two characters, to be played by Robert Guild and Althea Lembecke. The restricting clause that each play submitted shall have more than two characters was not inserted in the rules until after Miss Flint's one-act had been given favorable consideration.

Russian Play

Margaret Gower was sent to modern Russia and the situation there pertaining to marriage and divorce, for her play, "Love Must Be Changed." This is a different theme with its potential tragedy given a happy solution. Taking part will be J. Leslie Steffensen, Marion Bruner, Mabel Pruitt and Glenn Shaw.

Patriotism is the prevailing theme in "Red Bubble," the winning entry of Leila Watson, who has dealt with the problem of communism in the college system, and who has injected some delightful comedy in her lines and gags.

CENSUS OF REGISTER STAFF SHOWS BIRTHPLACES VARIED

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

"You were born in Kentucky, Daddy, and Mother was born in New York and I was born in California. Isn't it funny how we all got together?" said the wide-eyed little girl. Evidently she was thinking of a bigger family than hers, the so-called Register family. For it is even funnier "how we all got together" in this closely knitted little circle.

Pupils To Get Added Vacation

SAN CLEMENTE, April 3.—Vacation will continue through next week, it was announced today by Donald W. Todd, grammar school principal. Several new cases of measles have developed since last Friday, when school was dismissed owing to illness of pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd are spending the vacation in Whittier and Orange. Their daughter, Gwendolyn, student in the first grade, is recovering from measles in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, in Orange. Miss Edna Whetsel and Miss Pauline Noddermeyer, grade teachers, are visiting friends in Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Oklahoma Trails

And in between might be introduced one hailing from the beautiful lake country of Wisconsin or the moss-festooned swamplands of Tennessee; the peninsular state of Michigan where automobiles grow on bushes, or Utah which Brigham Young made famous as the Mohammedan dream of Paradise; the high-flung mesas and crystalline air of Arizona or the rounded hills of Nebraska.

One From Canada

Nor is that all. To echo the melancholy old song, "We Gather Them In" from foreign lands as well, especially from that one upon which the sun never sets. From Canada, one of Great Britain's foremost colonies, comes one representative, while another hails directly from England, exchanging roast beef and apple tart for sand-dabs, abalone steaks, trifles and oranges—that you-can't-pick-yourself. Wales not to be outdone, has produced another, who is slowly forgetting the double elts and the strange juxtaposition of G and W in Welsh names, while as for Bonnie Scotland—you should just see what happens when he hears the skirt o' the pipes!

DEATH RATE DECREASES

MOSCOW—(UP)—Cited as evidence of improved conditions of health in Moscow, the department of vital statistics reveals figures showing that in 1935 the death rate was decreased by 15.5 per cent compared with 1934, while the birth rate increased 18 per cent.

A. V. Auxiliary
Plans Many Meetings

Announcements

Many interesting events are in store for members of Jack Fisher Auxiliary D. A. V. during the month of April, according to plans formulated at the latest meeting in K. C. hall.

First in importance among these affairs is the Eighth District meeting of Sunday, April 5 in Escondido, where Hotel Charlotte will be conference headquarters. The district includes Orange county, San Diego, Ontario and San Bernardino.

Mrs. Harry S. Pickard of this city is commander of the district federation, and will be in attendance, while others from Jack Fisher auxiliary who have announced intention of being present include Mrs. Dean Laub, auxiliary commander; Mrs. V. L. Brown, director; Mrs. Mary Fisher, state executive committeewoman; Miss Lydia Fisher, state conductress; Mrs. Frances Thatcher, and two Riverside members, Mrs. J. F. Burke and Mrs. Hugh Harrell, state sergeant-at-arms. Riverside is now affiliated with Jack Fisher chapter and auxiliary.

On Easter Sunday, chapter and auxiliary will pay their accustomed monthly visit to veterans in the hospital at Sawtelle, taking with them gifts of late magazines, home-made cookies and candy, fruits and similar delicacies for the veterans' enjoyment.

On Wednesday night, April 15, chapter and auxiliary will join to make their social evening a compliment to Orange county's War Nurses. This meeting will be held as usual, in K. C. hall.

Wednesday, April 22 will be devoted to sewing, and auxiliary members will share a covered dish luncheon in the home of the David Days, 617 Wesley drive, Fullerton, and give the entire day to needwork for the veterans.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Allis, Van Bibber street, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Park, East Maple avenue, shared a noon picnic dinner today in Silverado canyon, celebrating the two birthdays of the men. Mr. Allis will observe his birthday Sunday and Mr. Parks observed his yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder left yesterday on a two-weeks motor trip east. The couple plan to make a brief visit with friends and relatives in eastern states and return to Orange in a new car to be purchased in Michigan.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, April 3.—The Misses Alberta and Gertrude Beeman, house guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nichols, left yesterday for a vacation in Michigan.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME

NEW SHOULDER WIDTH STRESSED IN A SIMPLE ALL-OCCASION STYLE PATTERN 2708 BY ANNE ADAMS

All her friends envy her—this smartly attired young Miss whose fashion secret is this Anne Adams' pattern. Another and better secret is that it's easy to make.

Who isn't pretty eager to sport the new and wider shoulder width this Spring, when it's as simply and conservatively done as this? You'll look slim, trim, anything but Prim in this frock whose bodice boasts a decorative row of hand or machine-made shirring, and a natty turn-down collar that's just right to take a pretty pin or clip. A colorful sash or silk shirring would be ideal for run-about, while a pastel synthetic or printed crepe is nice for sports or dress up. Make it now and you'll enjoy it for many months to come.

Pattern 2708 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 3/8 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps to Register Pattern Dept., Santa Ana, Calif., for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Send for your copy of our ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK! You'll like its foresighted advice on the latest patterns, fabrics, accessories, fashion trends. You'll like the way it helps you plan a whole smart wardrobe.

SAYS OKAY TO EAT ASPARAGUS WITH FINGERS

When asparagus comes, it always brings an argument in its wake. How do you eat it, with your fingers or with a fork? Annually this argument is fought on the field of etiquette, and it has never been really settled because social arbiters disagree.

Emily Post has come out in favor of the finger method, but Emily Holt, in the Encyclopedia of Etiquette, insists that only a fork is acceptable. The safest plan, when confronted with a dish of asparagus, is to let your common sense guide you.

Obviously, when asparagus is dripping with mayonnaise, handling it with the fingers is a messy business. On the other hand, if asparagus is to be dipped into mayonnaise, stalk by stalk, the fingers generally are more convenient than a fork. So don't worry about how to handle these asparagus dishes. Just fix 'em and eat 'em.

FRESH SHRIMP AND ASPARAGUS SALAD

2 cups whole cooked shrimp
2 cups cooked asparagus tips, cut in 1-2 inch pieces
1-4 cup celery, finely cut
1-4 cup Best Foods Real Mayonnaise

1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcester sauce
1 teaspoon chives, finely chopped
2 tablespoons chili sauce

Blend all ingredients, leaving out a few shrimp for garnish. Serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish each salad with remaining whole shrimp. Serves 6.

FRESH ASPARAGUS SALAD (With Cheese Mayonnaise)

24 asparagus tips
1-2 cup recipe cheese mayonnaise. Cook asparagus until just tender in boiling salted water. Drain carefully and marinate in French dressing in ice box until thoroughly chilled. Drain. Serve with crisp lettuce or endive. Pour cheese mayonnaise over asparagus tips just before serving. Serves 6.

CHEESE MAYONNAISE

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-2 cup cream
1-4 cup teaspoon salt
1-2 cup Roquefort cheese

prise in the contest between junior high schools in Santa Ana. Clarence Worthen of Lathrop won second prize.

Out of 114 entries from Santa Ana schools, 51 were from Lathrop and Willard. Juanita Jones, Ted Benedict, Jean Wallace, Jack Mair and Forest Bacon, submitted posters from Miss Libby's class. Merle Ramsey, Mariana McCullum, Velma Hart, Betty May Engelman, Velma Stroud and Lucille Roberts, entered posters from Miss Glancy's class. Adela Makayama, Mildred Peden and Lucy Acevedo each submitted two posters.

Initiation

Thirty-one pupils of the eighth grade were initiated into the social Law club last week. Group "A" met at the home of David Carmichael, 1311 North Garney, March 23 and group "B" met at the home of Isabell Rellstab, 1416 West Washington, March 30.

Elaine Marks, Barbara Tucker, Anna Margaret Bell; Lionel Hatter, George Higashi, Maurice Young and Rodney Bacon, of the Alpha H9 Social Law group and Arthur Beard, Donald Oliphant, Howard Rapp, Anita Potter, Martha Powell, Mary Towler, Betty Johnson, and Louise Bennett of the Alpha H9 Social Law group comprised the committees who planned the initiation.

Those who were initiated included David Carmichael, Mary Hunter, Rosemary Harp, Lucille Crawford, Barbara Flower, Jean Coniffe, Dorothy Frazer, Billy Lowe, Bruce Adkinson, Virginia Campbell, Marjorie Mize, Carol Jenne Brinkerhoff, Henry Segerstrom, Joe Mixer and George Hart. A group; Isabell Rellstab,

Examinations

"Put the earphone on your right ear, write down the number you hear over the record, and don't turn to look at your neighbor's paper." That's the way Doctor Mock, Santa Ana's school physician says if when you're ready to hear the words.

Dr. Mock with the assistance of Miss Margaret Van Scoyoc, school nurse, was at school all last week giving all students a chance to have their ears tested. The results have not yet been made public, although a pupil is able to tell his own score by the amount of work he accomplished.

Ball Teams

Speed ball games are proving to be very exciting these days at Lathrop. High Seven and High Nines will compete. The high sevens, who have named themselves Skyrockets

Vacation

With spring vacation next week, comes the end of the first quarter of this semester. Lathrop students will be preparing for quarterly tests and looking forward to the comment sheets which tell them of the progress made during this time.

Class Projects

Miss Olive Wherry's General Language classes have been collecting unusual surnames as a project. Here are some of their findings: Zero, Flowers, Rain, Upp, Down, Yett, Verry, Going, Was, Why, Did, Over, Most, Last, Toot, Lux, Porch, Bible, Story, Unique, Emblem, Africa, Brazil.

Assembly program

At a pay assembly sponsored by the P. T. A. on Tuesday afternoon Lathrop enjoyed a program presented by Ruby Hillie Huyn, N. B. C. and C. B. S. artist, Miss Huyn gave vocal and piano members of her own composition.

WAYNE'S GROCERY

INDEPENDENT OWNED and OPERATED

With great pleasure I announce to the people of Santa Ana and Orange County that after many years of service for large grocery firms I am now in business for myself. My buying connections have placed me in a position where I can sell at the lowest of prices—and this combined with the individual service a home-owned and operated store is able to give, I am sure will make this market a place where you will like to trade and where your business will be appreciated.

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardosa Sloan, Corona Del Mar
Good advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

RBS OF AROMATYCK AND REDOLENT SAVOURS

Cold enough to freeze the in your veins! I've been in the garden all day, I shut the garden gate before me, well after six o'clock, cold, dirty, empty as to stomach, up to feet and back, and vered as a fawn ignominy that petticoat had been "hanging" all day—I was in the mood for gardening forever.

Set thick with lily and rose, Where I would wander if I might. From early morn to dewy night.

But do you ever long for a little garden close filled with "aromatyc" herbs? A little, dry, sunny place, great muline with downy leaves and tall yellow flower spikes rising in the background, masses of valerian with blossoming heads of rose and white, purple of sage and borage, drifts of rosemary and rue, tumbled masses of green and silvery-grey foliage, thymes and catmints spilling into the path, lemon verbena swaying its misty blossoms? Fragrant, sunny, sweet, such a place would be, perhaps with the murmur of the sea from beyond its enclosing hedges, or wind singing in a pine tree overhead.

The charm of such a little garden plot, the fascination of growing the herbs of Grandmother's garden, has appealed to enough present day gardeners to make something of a fad for herb gardens. The quaint writings of the old herbalists have been hunted up, and modern enthusiasts have written delightful books, telling us what to grow, how to grow it and what to do with the herb after it is grown. And the same simple herbs Great-Grandmothers tended are grown today by Great-granddaughters who are reviving the pleasure of growing the aromatic herbs and the art of using these ancient plants in long-forgotten flavorings of food and drink, to "scents the clothespress," even, as in days of old, to heal bodily ills.

How many of these herbs do you know? Let's run over those used as food flavorings—angelica, anise, borage, caraway, thyme, dill, fennel, parsley (there's one everybody knows), rose geranium, rue, sage, sorrel, summer savory and winter savory, sweet marjoram, violets, watercress.

Angelica was supposed to possess "angelic" healing qualities. The garden herb is rather stately and ornamental plant, growing 4 to 5 feet tall, with attractive large foliage and large umbels of small white flowers. Its angelic attributes have simmered down to present use as a confection. Anise, too, is quite commonly used as a confectionery flavoring, why, I can't imagine—I think it is dreadful! But in the garden it is a pretty little annual, with slender, smooth green leaves.

Sage is probably the seasoning most used in America. The plants are attractive in the garden and easily grown. When I was a girl "sage tea" was a famous household remedy for "night sweats." If you have ever eaten leaves from our little native sorrel you know their tempting acidity. The garden sorrel is an impressively tall plant with great flower spikes. A handful of the leaves boiled with spinach will give just the right sourness. Or, if you want a fussy dish, try cooking sorrel with currants and raisins, and see how you like it.

Summer savory is an annual with soft, narrow green leaves and pinkish flowers, and winter savory is a perennial of much the same quality. Sweet marjoram is a pretty little plant, nice enough for any garden.

Caraway seed we use mostly in bread and cookies, but in old world cooking it is frequently used as a meat seasoning, and is surprisingly palatable. The plant has finely cut, caraway foliage. I remember it running wild in old mowing fields at Grandmother's, with its lifted umbels of white bloom, which we found even more enticing in seed time, with many a nibble at the freshly ripened seed. Thyme, of course, in its trim tin can, reposes in all well-stocked spice closets, excellent for seasoning meat and fish sauces, soup and "stuffings." But it is a pity if you know the thymes only from the taste. In the garden they are so desirable, tiny shrubby or creeping plants, with a variety of delicious scents when bruised under foot.

Dill is a sprightly little plant, fine leaves and small yellowish flowers. We know it in fish sauces, and even better in cucumber pickles, where it "gives the cold frost a pretty, spicy taste." In England it is still used as a sort of "soothing syrup" for babies. In ancient days it possessed magic powers "against witchcraft much awaiting." Maybe we are getting a whole lot more than picant taste when we eat a dill pickle! The feathery fennel has become a well-known weed in California, growing to a size which would surprise the old-time gardener. Its culinary use is in flavoring fish sauces, but once it was held in high repute, believed to give strength and fearlessness, to restore sight and to remove surplus weight.

We need to waste no words on the usefulness of parsley, but do you know how wretched it is in the garden? Do not hesitate to use it for edging a flower border. The rose geranium we know well for its scented foliage, and use of the leaves for flavoring jellies has come down to us through the years. Rue has bluish-green foliage, finely cut and aromatic, and yellowish flowers. Used in moderation the young leaves give flavor to salads and vegetables. Basil is another plant, that, with me at least, would be used in moderation as a flavoring, but the plant itself is a pretty little annual, with slender, smooth green leaves.

Herbs to scent the clothespress should be in every garden, the scented geraniums, rosemary, pot marjoram, southernwood, lemon verbena, and foremost of all scented herbs, the lavender.

A sunny location is the chief requisite for herb growing. Any good garden soil will do, and, with a few exceptions, they may be kept rather dry. There is an invigorating quality in these home herbs—if you haven't the place or the desire for a whole plot of them, tuck a few here and there in the regular flower border, and enjoy their "aromatyc" charm.

plant, feathery green foliage and dainty white flowers. The flowers and leaves of borage are used in cordials and salads. As to its taste I know not, but I do know it is a truly charming plant, worthy of a place in the flower border for its lovely sprays of purple-blue flowers, borne in the greatest profusion.

Wee Coppy paddled on till he was just as tired as he could be. The old prospector noticed this and said, "You'd better rest."

"Let someone take your place awhile." "Okay," said Coppy, with a smile. "I'd like to keep right on, but I am sure a switch is best."

"I'll take a turn," cried Scouty. "I will make the water whiz right by." Then, as he started moving, the old man exclaimed, "Sit still!"

"Don't try to switch 'round in this boat, if you want it to stay afloat. As sure as you stand up, young man, you're going to take a spill."

Wee Duncy, sitting in the stern, cried, "Hey, lad, when it comes my turn, just let me know. Right now I'm fishing. I just found a line."

The Timies watched him for a spell, and they heard him loudly yell, "I have a bite! Oh, goodness, me, what am I going to do?"

Wee Goldy answered, with a grin. "You hooked the fish, so pull it in. The whole idea was your own, so it is up to you."

He tried to follow her advice, but it did not work out so nice. The fish began to jerk so hard, it gave the lad a scare.

The fish then flopped up into sight and jerked once more, with all its might. This caught poor Duncy by surprise. He sailed into the air.

Rust Tones Win Milady's Favor For Summer Hose

The rusts have it. And that isn't all, they are going to keep it for at least six months. By way of explanation, this is rather forecast of hosiery shades.

When the rust tones, the exotic copper rust, glow tan, sun tan, titian, apricot, and others, made their debut several months ago they won instant appeal among discriminating women, and gradually have won those who at first were reluctant to indulge in bright hues.

The frothy, two-thread quality is worn mostly for evening, and the four-thread type is especially approved for women who are "unlucky in hose."

The new types of mesh hose are particularly flattering this season, and one that has taken mesh enthusiasts by storm is of a herringbone design. There are also mesh hose in lisle thread to be worn on the golf links and for other sportswear.

MARITAL FACT-FINDING SURVEY

It is with a faint and scarcely concealed air of disdain that readers who pretend to any familiarity with the magazines that monthly flood our newsstands, dismiss the cheaper types of monthly periodicals, with the derogatory term, "Pulp."

And now comes the April number of one of the pulpits of the pulps, in which a really worth-while thing is being done, a marital fact-finding survey conducted by True Story magazine, with a committee of judges headed by Professor Lyman Bryson of Columbia University.

Considering the fact that readers of this class of magazine are drawn from the extreme youth of the land, such a survey seems a very laudable enterprise on the part of the publishers. They have asked their readers to contribute opinions based on personal experience.

The committee, which includes also Dean N. H. Dearborn of New York University, and Mrs. Sidonie Gruenberg, director of Child Study association of America, was surprised to learn that the 45,000 married persons responding to the request for information based on personal experience, were practically unanimous in the opinion that men should be at least 25 years old, and women 20 years old, before they marry.

This age limit, according to expressed opinions, was to allow time for education, for the man to get established as a wage earner, and as offering the best of ages for parenthood.

The biggest surprise to the judges, however, came in replies to the question as to a wife remaining a wage earner. For again opinions were almost unanimously against this, indicating that feminism has apparently "swung around the circle" and decided that after all, woman's true place is in the home.

energy required for people to get what they need. Of course, making things scarce helps maintain the price for those people who have things and who owe money.

The question is, whether we are to run this country for those people who have things and who owe money, or whether we are to run it for the good of all the people and try to make everything as plentiful and as abundant as possible, so things may be had by the man who has the least ability to produce rapidly and efficiently.

The country certainly has been run long enough with the idea of trying to make things scarce so those who have things can get a larger price and thus make the worker work for less in real wages.

We seem to be willing to give this man of wealth a wonderful benefit, solely to try to protect and make it easy for the man who went in debt, believing, of course, that he would make money by going in debt.

The old age security pension is security only in name. It forces the workers and producers to turn over a large part of their production to the politicians to mismanage and waste. They will turn it back in money of unknown value. The more we have inflation, the more it will rob the workers of their savings, which have been taken away from them by law. If we have wild inflation, which economists believe we will have, the workers will get practically nothing for the pension money they have been deprived of. The politicians and government job holders will be the only beneficiaries.

If people really knew it, they are much better managers of their own affairs than the politicians are. Why they should trust politicians to manage their savings when they have made such a miserable failure of everything they have undertaken, is more than we can comprehend.

THE POOR, THE VICTIM

In the long run, the poorer the nation gets, the more sacrifices there will be on the part of the poor. This is true, because, by reducing the consumption of the extravagant livers, there is not taken away from them by this reduction nearly as much enjoyment as there is when the consumption of the poor is further reduced. It is for this reason, Congressman Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said the tax on the surpluses of corporations would indirectly "soak the poor in the worst fashion of any bill that has ever been before the country."

Demagogues tell the voters that all people are alike and have equal judgment in their ability to manage and produce wealth, to get the kind of tax measures proposed by these demagogues.

The only possible way the poor can be made more secure, in the long run, is to have capital in the hands of those people who will make

CORRECTION ON PRORATE EDITORIAL

In Thursday's editorial, the statement was made that the State Supreme Court had sustained an injunction from enforcing the prorate in the distribution of lemons. This was in error. The editorial was written from memory after a hasty reading of the Court's decision.

The Court denied the State Agricultural prorate commission a writ of prohibition to nullify the temporary restraining order granted by the Los Angeles Superior Court enjoining the commission from interfering with the production, picking or marketing of lemons.

We overlooked one of the negatives which, of course, changed the meaning of the decision. We regret the error.

When we recall that the National League of Woman Voters won last year, the prize of $3,000 for doing the most thorough and intelligent work in educating the general public on the question of international relations, it might be well for men of the country to emulate the women. Why should not men have similar leagues for educating them in the powers and the proper use of the ballot?

Might it not make a difference, not only in the nation's attitude towards war and its dangers, but also in the attitude towards internal problems of government?

SOCIAL SECURITIES ACT AND HAPPINESS

The new social securities act, requiring every employer and every employee to contribute to a fund to be used as a pension after the worker becomes 65 years of age, certainly has one feature that is very unsocial.

After a man has contributed for many years to this fund, he can receive no benefit from it, in the way of pension, unless he ceases his work; that is, unless he stops contributing to the national welfare of society by producing something that Society wants. It deprives the worker of the greatest of all joy and the greatest of all happiness which comes from the satisfaction of accomplishment. Undoubtedly, one of the greatest causes of happiness and joy of any human being comes from the satisfaction of accomplishing something that will be helpful to his fellowmen.

The theory that making things scarce is good for society, goes back to the economic belief at the beginning of the Eighteenth Century, when it was thought that the man who destroyed wealth and consumed wealth added to the general welfare of the working class. This belief that we can have more by having less certainly proves the intelligence, or lack of intelligence, of the Congressmen who pass a bill containing a provision whereby a man is penalized for serving humanity. It is, of course, in harmony with the idea of plowing under the cotton, paying the farmer for keeping his land idle, which all comes from the mistaken idea that the money price is what is important instead of the real price—the human germs didn't bother small boys so much in the old days. Were the boys tougher, or were the germs just disgusted by the dirt?

Common reaction to a book that shows the need of reform: "I don't like to read such depressing things."

THERE ARE TWO CLASSES: THOSE WHO SUFFER FOR WANT OF FOOD AND THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM EATING TOO MUCH.

Capitalism has its little faults, but it never has been able to lie and steal with a clear conscience for the sake of the Cause.

Sometimes, when Mamma weeps at the wedding, she is weeping for joy because Papa stayed sober enough to give the bride away.

A farm community has little chance. You see, it takes 800 farmers to produce the wealth and only three market speculators to lose it.

If you are a poor trader and the effort to sell anything embarrasses you, the only way out is to accept poverty as inevitable and hate the system.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "I MET THE CELEBRITY," SAID THE MAN, "AND HE PROVED TO BE ALL THAT I HAD EXPECTED."

The old folks are in the way, it's their own fault. They shouldn't try to run a house that doesn't belong to them.

Germs didn't bother small boys so much in the old days. Were the boys tougher, or were the germs just disgusted by the dirt?

Common reaction to a book that shows the need of reform: "I don't like to read such depressing things."

THERE ARE TWO CLASSES: THOSE WHO SUFFER FOR WANT OF FOOD AND THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM EATING TOO MUCH.

Capitalism has its little faults, but it never has been able to lie and steal with a clear conscience for the sake of the Cause.

Sometimes, when Mamma weeps at the wedding, she is weeping for joy because Papa stayed sober enough to give the bride away.
